IBOP Goes Ahead With New Hall

Ground-Breaking Is Held

AT SITE OF NEW HOME. The symbolical step in construction of a new home for the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters was taken Monday as officials spaded ground at the site. E. L. Wheatley, second from left, union president, and Charles F. Jordan, secretary-treasurer, turned the first earth as Robert F. Beatty of East Liverpool, architect for the building, and John T. Smith, secretary of the Potters Construction Co., general contractor, looked on. About 20 attended the brief ceremony.

Ground was broken Monday morning for the new $337,000 headquarters of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters in Madison Township shortly after union officers were notified officially of a law suit filed by a group of dissenting potters seeking to halt construction.

Weather permitting, the actual construction work was scheduled to begin today on the 10-acre tract near Beaver Local Schools, about 9 miles north of East Liverpool on Route 7.

IN A BRIEF speech preceding the ground breaking, E. L. Wheatley, president, apparently referring to the "referendum committee" which filed suits Friday asking for a permanent injunction and a writ of mandamus to force a vote of the trade, denounced them as "Quislings and reactionary politicians."

When dedicated, the building is intended "to continue the ethics and policies of the AFL-CIO and the mandates, approved laws and constitutional requirements of the IBOP, an affiliate of the AFL-CIO," Wheatley pledged.

"The organized worker in the pottery industry still has faith that management representatives in all branches of ceramics, by know-how and we hope imaginative thinking and planning for the future, will provide job opportunities for citizens wherever plants are operating or will be constructed," the president said.

Recalling that the pioneers of the union centered the headquarters in this area with a desire to continue into the future and that the union has constructed branch offices on the East and West Coasts within the last six years, he added:

Compromise Goes To PUCO

Gas Customers Spared Part Of Rate Increase

Settlement Cuts Request About 4%

Consumers Will Pay Boost Of $684,486 Instead Of $860,955

A negotiated settlement worked out by solicitors of 7 riverfront communities and the Ohio Valley Gas Co. was filed this afternoon with the Public Utilities Commission at Columbus, cutting $176,469 off the $860,955 the utility had sought annually in increased charges to residential customers, including 11,000 in East Liverpool and Wellsville.

The annual increase to residential consumers in 5 Eastern Ohio counties is expected to total $684,486, an average increase of 12 per cent as contrasted with a boost approximating 16 per cent for home heating customers which the company proposed initially. The negotiated settlement also provides for a $58,000 reduction in the boost for the company's industrial customers.

Agreed upon Monday afternoon at a meeting in Steubenville between solicitors of the affected communities and counsel for the utility, the notice of the negotiated settlement was filed with the PUC at 2 this afternoon. No effective date was specified for the increase, as the agreement is subject to PUC approval.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper of East Liverpool and Solicitor William L. Bush of Wellsville attended the meeting at which the settlement was approved. Representatives of all other communities affected, except Toronto, agreed to the settlement. They include Bridgeport, Martins Ferry, Tiltonsville, Yorkville and Steubenville.

The proposed schedule would increase the rate for the first 1,000 cubic feet of gas from $1.54 to $2.65. The increase for home heating customers using 30,000 cubic feet a month would amount to 7.86 per cent—from $23.16 to $24.98.

After the first 1,000 cubic feet, the next 4,000 would increase from a total of $3.05 to a total of $3.08.

Here are other steps in the billings, showing the amount consumed, the present charge, the new charge and the percentage of increase:

5,000 cubic feet, now $4.59, up to $5.73, a 24 per cent hike; 10,000 cubic feet, $8.30 now, up to $9.58, a boost of 15 per cent; 20,000 cubic feet, now $15.73, up to $17.28, a hike of 9 per cent; 30,000 cubic feet, now $23.16, up to $24.98, a boost of 7 per cent; 35,000 cubic feet, now $26.87, up to $28.83, a hike of 7.29 per cent; 40,000 cubic feet, now $30.59, up to $32.68, a boost of 6.83 per cent; 45,000 cubic feet, now $34.30, up to $36.53, an

U.S. Eyeing Wisconsin's Vote Today

Humphrey, Kennedy And Nixon Face Acid Tests In Primary

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The nation's first big presidential primary election opened today in Wisconsin, putting the hopes of three main contenders to the acid test of the ballot box.

The polls opened at 7 a.m. and the total ballot was expected to exceed the record of one million-plus cast in 1952.

The weatherman predicted fair skies and a warm day.

Election interest was at a fever pitch, stirred in large part by the appearance of a religious issue and the hard-fought campaigns of two Democratic candidates.

One of them, Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts, said his zero hour is at hand today. "If I am beaten," he said, "I'm out."

Kennedy is considered the leading candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination and the favorite to win the election in Wisconsin.

His opponent, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, says he won't quit the race, regardless of today's outcome.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is running unopposed on the Republican ballot. He did not campaign in Wisconsin. Nevertheless, his showing will be compared to that of the Democratic candidates and the votes cast for GOP aspirants in previous Wisconsin primaries.

A great deal will become clear after the polls close at 8 p.m.

As the only GOP candidate, Nixon already has the 30 delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Humphrey and Kennedy are battling for 30 Democratic delegate votes. They are allocated on the basis of 25 from the 10 congressional districts, plus five at-large delegate votes.

"I will consider it a victory if I win in six of the 10 districts and a majority of the popular vote," Kennedy said. "Anything above that is just gravy."

Humphrey, while less specific, said he would win the statewide total and a majority of the delegates.

Kennedy is a Roman Catholic. Humphrey is a Protestant.

Additional Acres Flooded; 100 More Flee

Mississippi And Missouri Rivers Cause New Alarm

By The Associated Press

A new rise sent the Mississippi River over the top of a levee and caused fresh alarm at other points today.

The Missouri River broke through a dike and spread across additional acres of land.

The Mississippi spilled over a levee in two places south of Clarksville, Mo., about 70 miles north of St. Louis, and began flowing into 5,000 acres of rich farmland. State Route 79 was closed.

Sheriff Charles Dunn reported that 100 persons had fled from that area.

A break in a levee near Augusta, Mo., poured Missouri River waters over 2,000 acres of fertile bottomland.

The swollen Mississippi had dropped after bursting levees north of Quincy, Ill., early Monday. But the big river rose again today in that area.

A new appeal for flood workers came from Gregory Landing on the Missouri side near the southern border of Iowa.

Break throughs were threatened in two places in the barrier at the northern edge of the Gregory Landing district.

The Mississippi swelled anew at Canton, Mo., and National Guardsmen relieved civilians on levee patrol duty there.

The river approached the top of the levee at Ashburn, Mo.

The spring floods in the Midwest, hitting hard at Nebraska and Iowa and also causing trouble in Wisconsin, Kansas, South Dakota and Michigan, have forced evacuation of 28,000 persons from their homes, the Red Cross estimated. A spokesman predicted the number would rise to 40,000 before the waters recede.

The Missouri, which Army engineers said already has inundated more than 500,000 acres of land, continued to rise. Army engineers, after an aerial inspection of the Missouri basin, estimated damage at about 5 million dollars.

The flooding at St. Joseph, in northwest Missouri, was the second worst of the century, second only to the 1952 spring overflows, but damage was not heavy. Subsiding of the North Grand and Chariton rivers was expected to bring a slight drop in the Missouri at Boonville, in mid-Missouri.

A stage of 27.1 feet was reported at Hermann, Mo., a small community west of St. Louis. A crest of 29 feet was expected Thursday night, with danger of flooding some 29,000 acres of levee protected land.

At St. Charles, a town of about 14,500 near St. Louis, the stage was 30 feet and another 2½ feet is expected by Friday with overflows threatening to cover 10,000 acres of farm land.

The Missouri and Mississippi converge just above St. Louis but no serious damage was expected.

Flood threats in most other Midwest states appeared over but in the East, the swollen Hudson River in New York spilled over its banks into streets and homes in the upper valley area. More than 30 families were evacuated from their homes at Waterford, N.Y., as overflows from the Mohawk and Hudson rivers covered a six-block area.

The flooding Hudson also forced families to evacuate their homes in Troy, Pleasantdale and Kingston, N.Y. An 18-block area was under a foot of water in Troy.

The Susquehanna River began to recede after rampaging through Oneonta and several smaller towns, forcing more than 400 families from their homes.

10-Nation Conference Deadlocked

West Snubs Khrushchev's Total Disarmament Plan

GENEVA (AP) — The West today rejected Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's plan for total disarmament, bringing the 10-nation conference to a deadlock. The Soviet Union previously turned down the West's proposal for gradual disarmament.

U.S. Ambassador Frederick M. Eaton declared the Soviet plan was so faulty it would threaten the world with anarchy.

Eaton also accused the Soviet Union of misrepresenting the motives of the U.S. government in the conference.

The American delegate labeled as untrue accusations made Monday by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin. The Soviet delegate claimed the United States was trying to twist the negotiations to secure a military advantage.

Eaton and French disarmament expert Jules Moch told the Communist bloc countries that the Soviet plan to disarm the world within four years is unacceptable in any form.

The Soviet plan, Eaton said, fails to conform to the objectives of the United Nations resolution calling for an effectively controlled disarmament system. It also fails to provide for an international police force, he said.

Thus, if the Soviet plan was adopted it would result "in the enslavement of small nations by their large neighbors," Eaton said.

The plan was first outlined to the U.N. General Assembly by Khrushchev last September.

The Soviets have rejected the Western plan for controlled disarmament by three stages, complaining that it does not provide for liquidation of military bases, that it sets no time limit for disarmament, and that it is in reality a plan for control of armaments, not for disarmament.

New School's Site Approved

Board Of Stanton Accepts OSU Choice

IRONDALE — The Stanton Local Board of Education Monday night approved the recommendation of a research team from Ohio State University for the location of a proposed $1½ million high school plant.

The board gave unanimous approval to the survey team's recommended site of the Elliott property in Hammondsville for the new building.

A survey team from the university's Bureau of Educational Research recommended the site which adjoins the present Hammondsville elementary building.

The action followed a public meeting held Feb. 23 in Irondale when citizens aired their views on where the new plant should be located.

The Stanton board also announced it has selected the name of the "Edison Elementary School" for a new building to be constructed on the riverfront near Empire.

The name is connected with the multi-million dollar Ohio Edison Co. plant on the riverfront in the Stanton School District.

The board is scheduled to open bids this week for the sale of $498,000 in bonds for constructing the elementary school near Empire.

Officer Slain And 2 Hurt In African Strife

Gunfire Wounds 35 Persons In Fresh Outbursts Of Rioting

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Two South African white policemen were injured and a Negro policeman hacked to death today in a new outburst of race rioting at the big Nyanga Negro settlement east of Cape Town.

The outbreak came as police with armored cars ranged through Nyanga, beating up Africans in an attempt to get them to go back to work, witnesses reported.

Witnesses said the police, backed by troops, used gunfire, whips and clubs on rebellious Negroes as they did Monday.

Col. V. Reay, acting deputy police commissioner for Cape Town, confirmed that the police had opened fire but said only warning shots were fired over the heads of Africans who gathered.

Reay said the police entered Nyanga Township to offer protection for Negroes who wanted to go to work and to round up "intimidators" preventing them.

Africans in the township claimed police smashed windows and doors of houses and ordered Negroes into the streets. If they refused, they were dragged out and beaten, they said.

Other reports from the township said Africans had decided to resist police and began gathering, armed with sticks and rocks. It appeared that when police saw Africans banding together, they charged in to scatter them.

Snow Flurries Mark Brief Winter Return

Winter staged what may be a brief return today with snow flurries and cooler temperatures.

The Ohio weatherman said there will be more flurries tonight as the mercury drops to a freezing range of 28 to 33 degrees. Wednesday will continue cool.

Meanwhile, the Ohio River remained stationary at 26.2 feet this morning after rising a tenth of a foot in the first surge since the high water crest of 36.8 feet Friday. Attendants at Dam 8 said indications were it might fall off a foot later today, then gradually decline.

Council Given Firemen's Bid For Pay Boost

Council Monday night took under advisement a fire department request for a general 20 per cent wage increase, compensatory time off for holiday work and an appropriation to pay replacements for men off duty because of illness.

The request was presented at a brief caucus session by a four-member wage committee of Local 24, International Association of Fire-Fighters. It was comprised of Alfred VanDyne, chairman, Edward Greenwood, president of the local, Frank Butler and Donald Hancock.

The committee said firemen feel they are entitled to an extra day off to compensate them for working on any one of six legal holidays. But the time off would go only to men actually required to work on a holiday — not to all members of the department, their proposal provided.

The committee also suggested that council provide money that could be used to pay the wages of an off-duty fireman called back to work as a replacement for a man off because of illness.

Since 1953, the fire department —like all other city departments —received 2 wage increases totaling 15 per cent, "but the cost of living has gone up from 1 to 1½ per cent every month for the last 10 years," Van Dyne told Council. He pointed out that city employes received a 10 per cent boost in 1958 and a 5 per cent hike at the beginning of 1960.

"It costs the fireman and his wife just as much to live as anyone else," VanDyne said. "We feel that 20 per cent is a fair increase. The low salary paid on the fire department is one of the reason men will not apply for the jobs."

VanDyne also pointed out that firemen cannot strike to back up their wage requests, but must rely "on the good judgment and fairness of our City Council."

Present pay rates in the fire department are: Chief $450 monthly; assistant chiefs, $390; firemen, $355, and rookie firemen, $336 for the first six months.

Ike Praises Nixon, Takes Jab At Critics

GOP Women Hear President Defend Policies On Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a partisan crowd cheering his words, President Eisenhower praised Vice President Richard M. Nixon and struck back lustily Monday night at Democratic critics of his defense policies.

"Our nation is the most powerful in the world," Eisenhower said, "and only the ignorant and the blind insist it to be otherwise."

The President chose the Republican Women's National Conference as the forum for his opening salvo of the party's campaign to elect Nixon as his successor. The speech, a preview of the kind he is likely to make as the campaign progresses, contained some sly digs at Democratic presidential hopefuls.

About 7,000 persons heard his speech, cheering both Eisenhower and Nixon, who introduced the President and lauded the record he has made.

Eisenhower's praise of Nixon was unstinting. He said Nixon has been "a credit to the administration, our party, and our country. Since 1952 he has gained nearly eight years of added governmental experience at the highest level — a tour of seasoning unmatched in the nation's history. All of us know him as a man of integrity and deep faith."

At another point, Eisenhower said "It's not my purpose tonight to take off into oratorical orbit—already we have a number of senatorial hopefuls doing that, each hoping to scramble into the chair I shall soon vacate." Since Nixon is unopposed for the Republican nomination, the senatorial hopefuls he gibed at could only be Democrats.

Raymond Scott Named Shippingport Burgess

Raymond Scott was appointed burgess of Shippingport and Robert Christy was named councilman at a meeting of Borough Council Monday night.

Both will serve until January 1962.

Chester Vote May Be Low

Forenoon Balloting Reported Only 146

Gloomy skies, lack of major political campaigning and a small number of contests in Chester's primary election may result in a record low vote today.

Only 146 voters had gone to the polls by 11 a. m., election workers reported.

Chief interest centers on the mayoralty races in both parties—Mayor Burton Ward facing Alvin Clutter on the Democratic slate, and Ray Collins, Herman Gower and William Mountjoy seeking the Republican nomination.

Two years ago, some 1,158 primary voters turned out, while in 1956 — the city's first primary— there were 860 voters. The caucus system was used for nominating prior to establishment of primaries.

Polls will close at 7 p. m.

The forenoon balloting showed 19 voters in the First Ward at Megailey's Garage, 38 at the Second Ward at the Central School, 26 in the Third Ward at the City Hall, 35 at the Fourth Ward at the High School and 28 at the Fifth Ward at the Washington School.

Charlton Heston Best Actor

'Ben-Hur' Wins 11 Oscars For New Awards Record

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The 15-million-dollar movie "Ben-Hur," most costly in Hollywood history, reaped 11 Oscars Monday night. It was the greatest Academy Award triumph ever scored.

Only for screenplay — material from another medium — did the classic tale of Biblical times fail to win the award for which it was nominated. The Screenplay Oscar went to the British-made "Room at the Top."

That movie also won the top actress award for the French actress, Simone Signoret.

"Ben-Hur" was not nominated for any actress awards.

Charlton Heston, who portrayed the title role Ben-Hur, won the award for best actor.

Hugh Griffith, a Welshman who played an Arab Sheik in "Ben-Hur," was named best supporting actor.

"Ben-Hur" also won the award for best picture and best director for William Wyler, practically wrapping up the top awards.

The picture, often called the screen's first intimate spectacular, also won awards for best costume design in color; best sound; best film editing; best art direction, which included best set direction by Hugh Hunt, who did the same job on the original silent "Ben-Hur" in 1924; best color cinematography, and best musical scoring.

Shelley Winters, nominated for the third time, was named best supporting actress for her work in "The Diary of Anne Frank."

"Ben-Hur," by winning 11 Oscars, beat "Gigi," also produced by MGM as the all-time Oscar record holder. "Gigi" won nine Oscars last year—every category for which it was nominated.

Probably the most applauded award of the evening went to Bob Hope, perennial master of ceremonies for the Oscar show, who received the Jean Hersholt humanitarian award, a special Oscar.

Hope said "I have no writers to cover a situation like this. I can only thank you very much."

Teller 'Talks' Man Out Of Bank Robbery

WEIRTON — A nervy, 26-year-old teller talked his way out of a robbery in a superb exhibition of coolness Monday afternoon in the Peoples Bank of Weirton.

Police said Richard Reed, an employe of the bank only 8 months, chatted with an unmasked, young bandit for approximately 15 minutes and thwarted the holdup.

The Weirton teller told police and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents he was confronted by a sporty-dressed young man at 1:25 p. m. and presented a note demanding $1,100 in $10 and $20 denominations.

Reed told police the bandit exhibited a handkerchief which "might have held a gun." Reed said he began talking to the bandit about his family and children and the holdup man — apparently an amateur — left the window when a woman appeared.

Eaton and French disarmament expert Jules Moch told the Communist bloc countries that the Soviet plan to disarm the world within four years is unacceptable in any form.

The Soviet plan, Eaton said, fails to conform to the objectives of the United Nations resolution calling for an effectively controlled disarmament system. It also fails to provide for an international police force, he said.

Thus, if the Soviet plan was adopted it would result "in the enslavement of small nations by their large neighbors," Eaton said.

The plan was first outlined to the U.N. General Assembly by Khrushchev last September.

The Soviets have rejected the Western plan for controlled disarmament by three stages, complaining that it does not provide for liquidation of military bases, that it sets no time limit for disarmament, and that it is in reality a plan for control of armaments, not for disarmament.

New School's Site Approved

Board Of Stanton Accepts OSU Choice

IRONDALE — The Stanton Local Board of Education Monday night approved the recommendation of a research team from Ohio State University for the location of a proposed $1½ million high school plant.

The board gave unanimous approval to the survey team's recommended site of the Elliott property in Hammondsville for the new building.

A survey team from the university's Bureau of Educational Research recommended the site which adjoins the present Hammondsville elementary building.

The action followed a public meeting held Feb. 23 in Irondale when citizens aired their views on where the new plant should be located.

The Stanton board also announced it has selected the name of the "Edison Elementary School" for a new building to be constructed on the riverfront near Empire.

The name is connected with the multi-million dollar Ohio Edison Co. plant on the riverfront in the Stanton School District.

The board is scheduled to open bids this week for the sale of $498,000 in bonds for constructing the elementary school near Empire.

Officer Slain And 2 Hurt In African Strife

Gunfire Wounds 35 Persons In Fresh Outbursts Of Rioting

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP)—Two South African white policemen were injured and a Negro policeman hacked to death today in a new outburst of race rioting at the big Nyanga Negro settlement east of Cape Town.

The outbreak came as police with armored cars ranged through Nyanga, beating up Africans in an attempt to get them to go back to work, witnesses reported.

Witnesses said the police, backed by troops, used gunfire, whips and clubs on rebellious Negroes as they did Monday.

Col. V. Reay, acting deputy police commissioner for Cape Town, confirmed that the police had opened fire but said only warning shots were fired over the heads of Africans who gathered.

Reay said the police entered Nyanga Township to offer protection for Negroes who wanted to go to work and to round up "intimidators" preventing them.

Africans in the township claimed police smashed windows and doors of houses and ordered Negroes into the streets. If they refused, they were dragged out and beaten, they said.

Other reports from the township said Africans had decided to resist police and began gathering, armed with sticks and rocks. It appeared that when police saw Africans banding together, they charged in to scatter them.

Snow Flurries Mark Brief Winter Return

Winter staged what may be a brief return today with snow flurries and cooler temperatures.

The Ohio weatherman said there will be more flurries tonight as the mercury drops to a freezing range of 28 to 33 degrees. Wednesday will continue cool.

Meanwhile, the Ohio River remained stationary at 26.2 feet this morning after rising a tenth of a foot in the first surge since the high water crest of 36.8 feet Friday. Attendants at Dam 8 said indications were it might fall off a foot later today, then gradually decline.

Council Given Firemen's Bid For Pay Boost

Council Monday night took under advisement a fire department request for a general 20 per cent wage increase, compensatory time off for holiday work and an appropriation to pay replacements for men off duty because of illness.

The request was presented at a brief caucus session by a four-member wage committee of Local 24, International Association of Fire-Fighters. It was comprised of Alfred VanDyne, chairman, Edward Greenwood, president of the local, Frank Butler and Donald Hancock.

The committee said firemen feel they are entitled to an extra day off to compensate them for working on any one of six legal holidays. But the time off would go only to men actually required to work on a holiday — not to all members of the department, their proposal provided.

The committee also suggested that council provide money that could be used to pay the wages of an off-duty fireman called back to work as a replacement for a man off because of illness.

Since 1953, the fire department —like all other city departments —received 2 wage increases totaling 15 per cent, "but the cost of living has gone up from 1 to 1½ per cent every month for the last 10 years," Van Dyne told Council. He pointed out that city employes received a 10 per cent boost in 1958 and a 5 per cent hike at the beginning of 1960.

"It costs the fireman and his wife just as much to live as anyone else," VanDyne said. "We feel that 20 per cent is a fair increase. The low salary paid on the fire department is one of the reason men will not apply for the jobs."

VanDyne also pointed out that firemen cannot strike to back up their wage requests, but must rely "on the good judgment and fairness of our City Council."

Present pay rates in the fire department are: Chief $450 monthly; assistant chiefs, $390; firemen, $355, and rookie firemen, $336 for the first six months.

Ike Praises Nixon, Takes Jab At Critics

GOP Women Hear President Defend Policies On Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a partisan crowd cheering his words, President Eisenhower praised Vice President Richard M. Nixon and struck back lustily Monday night at Democratic critics of his defense policies.

"Our nation is the most powerful in the world," Eisenhower said, "and only the ignorant and the blind insist it to be otherwise."

The President chose the Republican Women's National Conference as the forum for his opening salvo of the party's campaign to elect Nixon as his successor. The speech, a preview of the kind he is likely to make as the campaign progresses, contained some sly digs at Democratic presidential hopefuls.

About 7,000 persons heard his speech, cheering both Eisenhower and Nixon, who introduced the President and lauded the record he has made.

Eisenhower's praise of Nixon was unstinting. He said Nixon has been "a credit to the administration, our party, and our country. Since 1952 he has gained nearly eight years of added governmental experience at the highest level — a tour of seasoning unmatched in the nation's history. All of us know him as a man of integrity and deep faith."

At another point, Eisenhower said "It's not my purpose tonight to take off into oratorical orbit—already we have a number of senatorial hopefuls doing that, each hoping to scramble into the chair I shall soon vacate." Since Nixon is unopposed for the Republican nomination, the senatorial hopefuls he gibed at could only be Democrats.

Raymond Scott Named Shippingport Burgess

Raymond Scott was appointed burgess of Shippingport and Robert Christy was named councilman at a meeting of Borough Council Monday night.

Both will serve until January 1962.

Charlton Heston Best Actor

'Ben-Hur' Wins 11 Oscars For New Awards Record

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The 15-million-dollar movie "Ben-Hur," most costly in Hollywood history, reaped 11 Oscars Monday night. It was the greatest Academy Award triumph ever scored.

Only for screenplay — material from another medium — did the classic tale of Biblical times fail to win the award for which it was nominated. The Screenplay Oscar went to the British-made "Room at the Top."

That movie also won the top actress award for the French actress, Simone Signoret.

"Ben-Hur" was not nominated for any actress awards.

Charlton Heston, who portrayed the title role Ben-Hur, won the award for best actor.

Hugh Griffith, a Welshman who played an Arab Sheik in "Ben-Hur," was named best supporting actor.

"Ben-Hur" also won the award for best picture and best director for William Wyler, practically wrapping up the top awards.

The picture, often called the screen's first intimate spectacular, also won awards for best costume design in color; best sound; best film editing; best art direction, which included best set direction by Hugh Hunt, who did the same job on the original silent "Ben-Hur" in 1924; best color cinematography, and best musical scoring.

Shelley Winters, nominated for the third time, was named best supporting actress for her work in "The Diary of Anne Frank."

"Ben-Hur," by winning 11 Oscars, beat "Gigi," also produced by MGM as the all-time Oscar record holder. "Gigi" won nine Oscars last year—every category for which it was nominated.

Probably the most applauded award of the evening went to Bob Hope, perennial master of ceremonies for the Oscar show, who received the Jean Hersholt humanitarian award, a special Oscar.

Hope said "I have no writers to cover a situation like this. I can only thank you very much."

Teller 'Talks' Man Out Of Bank Robbery

WEIRTON — A nervy, 26-year-old teller talked his way out of a robbery in a superb exhibition of coolness Monday afternoon in the Peoples Bank of Weirton.

Police said Richard Reed, an employe of the bank only 8 months, chatted with an unmasked, young bandit for approximately 15 minutes and thwarted the holdup.

The Weirton teller told police and Federal Bureau of Investigation agents he was confronted by a sporty-dressed young man at 1:25 p. m. and presented a note demanding $1,100 in $10 and $20 denominations.

Reed told police the bandit exhibited a handkerchief which "might have held a gun." Reed said he began talking to the bandit about his family and children and the holdup man — apparently an amateur — left the window when a woman appeared.

Chester Vote May Be Low

Forenoon Balloting Reported Only 146

Gloomy skies, lack of major political campaigning and a small number of contests in Chester's primary election may result in a record low vote today.

Only 146 voters had gone to the polls by 11 a. m., election workers reported.

Chief interest centers on the mayoralty races in both parties—Mayor Burton Ward facing Alvin Clutter on the Democratic slate, and Ray Collins, Herman Gower and William Mountjoy seeking the Republican nomination.

Two years ago, some 1,158 primary voters turned out, while in 1956 — the city's first primary—there were 860 voters. The caucus system was used for nominating prior to establishment of primaries.

Polls will close at 7 p. m.

The forenoon balloting showed 19 voters in the First Ward at Megailey's Garage, 38 at the Second Ward at the Central School, 26 in the Third Ward at the City Hall, 35 at the Fourth Ward at the High School and 28 at the Fifth Ward at the Washington School.

Giant 'Ear' To Begin Tests

'Anyone There?' Signals Aimed At Other Planets

EDITOR'S NOTE—Is there life on other planets? Some astronomers think so, and today for the first time they are turning the earth's ear to try to catch sounds of faraway life. In this first in a three-part series, AP science writer Alton Blakeslee explains the quest of Project Ozma.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

GREEN BANK, W. Va. (AP)—Eathlings today begin a search to hear signals from intelligent life somewhere else in our universe.

Many scientists are convinced somebody is out there, somewhere among billion times billions of stars, and probably billions of other planets.

Seeking contact, young astronomers here first are pointing the giant ear of a radio telescope at two fairly nearby stars which may have planets, and perhaps intelligent life.

Just conceivably, those planets may be beaming "Is anyone there?" signals at earth, explains Dr. Frank D. Drake, 29-year-old associate astronomer of the National Radio Astronomy Observatory perched in this mountainous hamlet of only 100 souls.

Or perhaps new and sensitive equipment here can pick up commands they are sending to their own space probes, as we are sending signals out to our recent Venus probe.

Today Dr. Drake and associates are installing the special equipment in the 5-foot radio telescope pointing a shiny, cup-shaped ear out into space.

Tonight or Tuesday if all goes well, they will actually begin listening for the first time on earth for messages from far out there.

Success on this first venture is scarcely to be hoped for, astronomers concede.

Yet there is a faint chance man will suddenly receive the electrifying answer to one of his questions: "Is there intelligent life elsewhere than on earth?"

Many hours every day for a month the radio telescope will hunt for coded signals along frequencies which life elsewhere might be beaming right now at us.

After a month, if no word comes, this first vigil will end and the radio telescope will resume doing other astronomical research.

But the quest will be resumed later, probably with more powerful receivers, "for there is no doubt in the minds of many or most of astronomers that some day success will be achieved—now or 100 years from now, but some day," Dr. Drake declares.

The handsome, gray-eyed astronomer with graying-brown hair mainly conceived and is directing this search named Project Ozma, after the queen of fictional Oz, "a place very far away, difficult to reach, and populated by strange and exotic beings."

Labor Unions To Battle Lausche's Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Men who know Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) consider it pretty much a cinch he will run for re-election in 1962.

But at this writing it appears certain he would be running without the support of organized labor, a customary posture for him throughout most of his long public career.

For the first time since he came to the Senate four years ago, Lausche is sponsoring a piece of important legislation that has a good chance to become law.

It is legislation that the labor unions say is aimed directly against them.

The legislation is an amendment to the civil rights bill that would make it a crime for anybody to obstruct a court order.

On the face of things, it is hard to see how anyone could object to that idea. The officials at AFL-CIO headquarters, however, say the phrase is a lot less innocent than it sounds.

Lausche says it is simple justice. As he explains it, he noticed that the original bill made it a crime to obstruct a court order only in school segregation cases.

Put that way, he said, the section "has the indefensible weakness that it speaks to one section of the nation and says to the people of that section that special laws are needed."

Those "people," of course, are the Southerners, and it is that same group that the AFL-CIO says will use the Lausche amendment against unions.

Al Zack, public relations man for AFL-CIO President George Meany, told a reporter:

"I don't know of a jury in the South that would convict in a segregation case. On the other hand, I can't think of a case where a jury in the south wouldn't convict in a labor union matter."

But Lausche says he won't be deterred by criticism.

He has a large segment of Congress on his side, including Republican Senate Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who first opposed the Lausche amendment.

It appears now that the Lausche amendment will become part of possibly the most important legislation from this Congress—a new civil rights law.

Warning Issued On Fire Permits

Homer Cronin, assistant chief of the Liverpool Township West fire department and a district forest fire warden, issued a warning today that permits must be obtained for any outside rubbish or brush fire after the department was called Sunday morning to battle a brush fire on Shadyside Ave.

The brush fire broke out at the home of Orville McDole after wind whipped a rubbish fire. A tract of brush about 100 by 50 feet was burned. Thirteen men and a truck responded from the LaCroft station. Neighbors had the fire out when firemen arrived.

Cronin emphasized that law requires permits must be obtained for any outdoor burning of rubbish or brush. For the Westfield, Sherwood, LaCroft, Shadyside and Campground Rd. district, they may be obtained at the LaCroft fire station or from Cronin, who resides on LaCroft Ave.

Mr. Meier, student at the Western Theological Seminary at Pittsburgh, is to graduate in June and be re-assigned.

He presided at the installation of Earl Davis, trustee, at the worship yesterday. The Rev. Jack Little of Niles was in charge of installation of Everett George and Morris Swaney as elders.

A gift was presented to Mr. Meier and his wife.

The United Presbyterian Women of the church will meet Tuesday night at 8 at the hall with Mrs. Otis Gibson and Mrs. Verna Swaney as hostesses. Mrs. Jeanne Lowers will be program chairman.

Mrs. Stella Vaughn, who underwent a cataract operation recently, has been removed from Alliance City Hospital to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Scott of Salem.

Mrs. Maggie Wollam remains a patient at the Hall Nursing Home at Salem with a fractured hip.

Sewage Plant Resumes When River Stage Falls

With the high water continuing to recede, the municipal sewage treatment plant on W. 4th St. Ext. was placed back in operation Sunday afternoon after being closed since Thursday.

Operations were halted when the rising water backed up into Carpenters Run and then through a bypass line to a diversion box. When the plant halted processing, the waste was allowed to flow directly into the river.

The River Rd., which had been closed because of high water in two places, was reopened Saturday afternoon after city crews completed cleaning muck and debris from the roadway. The water had receded earlier from Ralstons Crossing and from a spot just upstream from the Chester Bridge, but the road was kept closed to allow crews time to clean it up.

Summer Plan Of School Set For Hancock

Summer School classes will be offered in the Hancock County system this year for the first time.

The County Board of Education Monday night approved operation of classes in two centers—Chester and Weirton—after compiling the results of a survey held to determine if there was enough interest to warrant summer school.

In addition, the board granted continuing and probationary contracts to 61 teachers and heard routine reports.

The survey indicated there is enough interest in summer classes to operate two high school centers in Chester and Weirton and three centers in Chester, Weirton Heights and the Cove School in Weirton for elementary students.

Under the program, students will be able to receive one full credit by completing a course with the exception of driver education, which is a one-half credit course.

Tuition will be $30 for elementary students for a course of six-weeks, five days a week, three hours a day. Classes to be offered in Grades 1 through 8 will be language arts — reading, spelling and English — and arithmetic.

Tuition for high school students will be $45 for a nine-week course, five days a week, three hours a day. Classes planned include grammar, composition, literature, Algebra I, Algebra II and trigonometry, plain geometry, advanced biology, American and world history, typing, shorthand and remedial reading.

The survey indicated a high interest of high school students in Typing I. Fifty-two expressed interest from Chester and 54 from Weirton.

The Board approved summer classes in an attempt to meet the demands of brighter students and to provide an opportunity for others to pick up required credits.

The announced schedule meets standards of the West Virginia State Department of Education and the North Central Association, school authorities said. Some classes will be combined and students added in other courses.

The board has set a tentative date of June 6 for the opening day of summer school. Students will be enrolled soon, the board reported.

In other action, the board employed Mrs. Judith Pillo of Chester as an elementary teacher next term. Leaves of absences were granted Mrs. Melvin D. Boyd and Mrs. Clara J. Walters.

Use of the auditorium in New Cumberland High School May 20 for an after-prom party was granted the United Organization. Permission was granted Carl Hoder of Weirton to chaperone a Key Club group to Fairmont for a meeting Friday. Ruth Ann Morgan of Weirton was given permission to chaperone students of the Future Teachers of America to a meeting April 12 at West Liberty.

The board reported the Hartford Steam Boiler Co. had stamped boilers in the Pughtown School as "excellent."

Seventeen teachers were granted continuing contracts. They are Rita H. Abelson, Frances Alatis, Virginia Lee Beebout, Sara B. Davis, Carol B. Dean, Allie K. Dever, John M. Evancho, Charles I. Jones, Chrissoula Karastamatis, Dale Lutton, Clara H. Mills, Ruth Ann Morgan, Mary Louise Nedrow, Carl W. Peters, Kenneth Simcox, Robert G. Starkey and Marguerite Walters.

Third probationary contracts were awarded Sue Linger Allison, Nancy Bottorf, Marjorie Frew Carter, Helen L. Chandler, Frankie Fiazza, Louis Kuntupis, Florence Laneve, Ruth Lemasters, Wilbert C. Long, Margaret Moorhead, Eugenia M. Nogay, William H. Owings, Gloria Proakis, Sue Hoover Putich, Jeannie Ridinger, Eleanor U. Risher and George D. Tokash.

Second probationary contracts were awarded 24 other teachers. They are: Mary J. Andrasik, Ann Alatis, Garnet P. Brenneman, Carol Clear Cameron, Crawford H. Cameron, Hanna L. Claypool, Elizabeth Cullinan, Billie K. Dietz, Susan Kay Finley, Carl E. Fodor, Ava E. Hall, Chloe A. Jester, Sue Belle Johnson.

Robert H. Johnston, Mary M. Kokochak, Alena K. Lutton, Rachel McCoy, Peggy Mangano, Mabel M. Porter, Steve Psaroudis, Rosemarie F. Rybka, Polly J. Sargent, Curtis P. Smith and Helen B. Tompos.

Firsr probationary contracts were awarded Lois Cook, Patricia M. Driscoll and Leo J. Littman.

Dr. W. Dale Williams, president, presided.

Key Club Receives 2 State Awards

The Key Club of East Liverpool High School returned from the district convention held over the weekend in Cleveland with two awards for achievement.

Over 1,042 Key Clubbers from all over Ohio were present for the open rally held in the Hotel Carter.

The club won first place in an achievement report contest and another first in the "Key Club-in-Action" contest. Displaying the awards are the new officers for 1960-61. Left to right, are Jeff Taylor, secretary; Gary Hicks, president; Joe Costello, vice president, and Ray Goodman, treasurer.

Both plaques were awarded on the basis of an annual report and a series of monthly reports submitted by the retiring secretary, Bob Stewart. Other retiring officers are Craig Burbick, president, and Bruce Jones, treasurer. Hicks served as vice president last year.

Thirty-one members attended the convention. They were accompanied by Merrill Hall, sponsor; John Parsons and Irwin Vorndran, honorary members; Nate Lorah, faculty manager, and Charles Snyder, teacher.

Convention activities included a talk by C. William Nelson of Melbourne, Fla., international president, who described his visit to Europe in October under the auspices of the Crusade for Freedom. He described conditions behind the Iron Curtain.

Flames Destroy Barn In Highlandtown Area

A Highlandtown barn was destroyed by a fire Monday night which sent up flames visible as far as Salineville.

Some $4,000 in damage and losses were reported to the 81-year-old structure at the home of Lloyd Bentley of Route 39 just west of Highlandtown.

Salineville and Highlandtown fire men battled the blaze, which broke out about 10. Bentley, a candidate for sheriff, was at Wellsville but some of the family was home.

Cause of the blaze was not determined. Some wheat and oats along with $500 worth of tools were in the barn, built in 1879, and a cornpicker machine parked at its side was heavily damaged.

The company said the layoffs are not confined to any particular department.

It did not estimate the number involved, saying "fluctuation of employment affecting a minor percentage of employes is not unusual for the size of the Midland Works, which employs over 7,000 at peak employment."

Trustees O.K. Appropriation For St. Clair

An appropriation of $35,325 for 1960 was approved by the St. Clair Township trustees at a meeting Monday night.

The appropriation is down slightly from the appropriation for 1959 —$35,800—because there was a larger carryover of funds this year, Neil McIntosh, clerk, reported.

Complaints of depressions in Wyoming Ave., Glenmoor, were filed with the trustees by Albert Adams, Kenneth Davis, Stanley Sheens and Wayne Cottrell.

Trustees said repairs are to be made. The group also requested information on blacktopping the street, and were reminded it could not be placed on the road program this year.

Walter Smith of Lyle St., Glenmoor, requested opening of one end of the street. The township will ditch the roadway if he grades it.

John McCaughtry of East Liverpool asked for information on opening a street of his addition on McCoy Ave. Douglass Steebner of Summit Ln. turned in $30 for matching slag funds.

Trustees agreed to inspect property of Harry Nulf of Oakmont, who complained water is draining off Purinton Ave.

Repairs were authorized for Dome St., Huston Rd., Coie Ave. and Shaffer Rd.

Homer Barcus Named Salineville Councilman

SALINEVILLE — Homer Barcus of West End was appointed to a vacant Council post at a special meeting of Council Monday night.

Barcus, a former councilman and employe of a Salem firm, succeeds William Hull, Democrat, who resigned because of a conflict with his work schedule.

Barcus is a Republican, as are all other members of Council. Others considered for the appointment were Stanley Fitch, Paul Jarvis, Paul Sweeney and Gillis Ear.

Gas Hike

increase of 6.50 per cent, and 50,000 cubic feet, now $38.01, up to $40.38, a hike of 6.24 per cent.

The company said 89 per cent of its residential customers fall into the 10,000-20,000 cubic foot bracket.

Ohio Valley filed its rate application Jan. 4 with the PUC. Major cities along the riverfront banded together shortly afterward to fight the request.

In mid-March, the company and the city representatives started a series of meetings on a negotiated settlement which ended in yesterday's agreement.

The total increase proposed in the original application would have been $1,040,438, which included $894,753 in higher billings for residential consumers and the balance charged to 43 industrial customers in the area.

After a cut of a half cent per 1,000 cubic feet on March 1, the proposed residential increase was reduced to $860,955 on an annual basis.

As part of the agreeement filed with the PUC, the company would hold off for 18 months to 2 years on an application for a further increase which it expected to file under the "reconstruction cost new less depreciation" formula. It was estimated that the second increase would have boosted rates by about $600,000 a year.

The fact that the company will not make the second application for a rate hike is expected to save consumers about $1 million. The present fuel escalator clause, based upon actual increased cost of purchased gas, will remain in effect.

As part of the fight against the Ohio Valley application, the riverfront cities hired two utility rate specialists to help prepare ammunition for use in PUC hearings. In East Liverpool, Council appropriated $2,000 as the city's share of the expense.

Manufacturers Given Pennsylvania Rate Hike

A gas rate increase that will cost 225,000 Western Pennsylvania customers $1,419,000 a year went into effect today for the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co.

The boost was approved late Monday at Harrisburg by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission. The PUC said it had no alternative because wholesale gas rates had been raised by the Federal Power Commission.

The boost is the second granted to Manufacturers this year. The PUC said the concern will not realize any net gain in revenue because all the increase will go to pay the higher wholesale price of gas.

Motorist Forfeits $62 On 2 Traffic Charges

Daniel Nelson Sisco, 1775 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, forfeited two $31 bonds when he failed to appear today in Municipal Court on charges filed after his arrest Monday night on Shadyside Ave.

Cited by Constable Clifford Owens of Liverpool Township, Sisco was accused of operating an auto with a noisy muffler and ignoring a stop sign at Shadyside Ave. and Campground Rd. He was cited at 7:40 last night.

Meanwhile, a Municipal Court hearing is pending for Jerome J. Drago, 229 8th St., Wellsville, who was cited at 2:05 a. m. Sunday by the State Highway Patrol, accused of driving 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super-road." No date has been set for a hearing.

City Warns Truckers On Scattering Refuse

Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver warned private trash haulers today that city ordinances require the beds of their trucks must be covered with tarpaulins or some other material to prevent the cargo from being scattered.

The director warned truckers are subject to a fine for violating the ordinance. He acted after noting trash scattered from trucks along some major thoroughfares, including Pennsylvania Ave. and W. 6th St.

Council enacted the ordinance requiring covers a few years ago after complaints were received that trucks were scattering cargo while driving to a city-operated dump in St. Clair Township.

The U. S. Coast Guard was established in 1790 as a 10 ship, anti-smuggling fleet.

Wellsville, Columbiana Drivers Fined, Jailed

A Wellsville driver and one from Columbiana were fined and jailed on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol at hearings Monday before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville.

Fined $200 and costs each and sentenced to 3 days in jail were Edwin L. Morris, 1033½ Main St., Wellsville, and Paul Miner of Pittsburgh St. Ext., Columbiana. They also were fined $20 each for driving without operator's licenses.

Both were arrested Saturday night, police said.

Glenn T. Reed of Chester forfeited a $10 bond when he failed to appear yesterday for a hearing on a charge of speeding.

In mayor's court Saturday Merle E. Tice of Leetonia was fined $20 for passing on the wrong side of a vehicle and James Timmons of Boring Ln. was fined $15 for reckless operation.

Boy, 6, Drowns

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP) — Michael Wilson, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson of Pattersonville, north of here, was drowned Monday in Stillfort Creek. Two other youngsters with whom Michael was playing said he fell off a log into the water. They called Robert Moser, 31, who recovered the boy's body about 100 yards downstream.

Meanwhile, a Municipal Court hearing is pending for Jerome J. Drago, 229 8th St., Wellsville, who was cited at 2:05 a. m. Sunday by the State Highway Patrol, accused of driving 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on the East Liverpool-Wellsville "super-road." No date has been set for a hearing.

City Warns Truckers On Scattering Refuse

Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver warned private trash haulers today that city ordinances require the beds of their trucks must be covered with tarpaulins or some other material to prevent the cargo from being scattered.

The director warned truckers are subject to a fine for violating the ordinance. He acted after noting trash scattered from trucks along some major thoroughfares, including Pennsylvania Ave. and W. 6th St.

Council enacted the ordinance requiring covers a few years ago after complaints were received that trucks were scattering cargo while driving to a city-operated dump in St. Clair Township.

The U. S. Coast Guard was established in 1790 as a 10 ship, anti-smuggling fleet.

Wellsville, Columbiana Drivers Fined, Jailed

A Wellsville driver and one from Columbiana were fined and jailed on charges of driving while under the influence of alcohol at hearings Monday before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville.

Fined $200 and costs each and sentenced to 3 days in jail were Edwin L. Morris, 1033½ Main St., Wellsville, and Paul Miner of Pittsburgh St. Ext., Columbiana. They also were fined $20 each for driving without operator's licenses.

Both were arrested Saturday night, police said.

Glenn T. Reed of Chester forfeited a $10 bond when he failed to appear yesterday for a hearing on a charge of speeding.

In mayor's court Saturday Merle E. Tice of Leetonia was fined $20 for passing on the wrong side of a vehicle and James Timmons of Boring Ln. was fined $15 for reckless operation.

Boy, 6, Drowns

CARROLLTON, Ohio (AP) — Michael Wilson, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson of Pattersonville, north of here, was drowned Monday in Stillfort Creek. Two other youngsters with whom Michael was playing said he fell off a log into the water. They called Robert Moser, 31, who recovered the boy's body about 100 yards downstream.

Think Twice Before Jumping

The Citizens Advisory Commission on Information has urged Congress to create a cabinet-rank agency to handle all United States cultural, educational and informational programs overseas.

The members of the commission are dedicated people, seriously concerned with this country's activities in promoting mutual understanding throughout the world. It is safe to assume they did not make their recommendation on the spur of the moment.

BUT THEIR suggestion is one of those ideas about government that deserves at least two thoughts before we make the jump. There are arguments on both sides of the issue.

Certainly propaganda is a prime weapon in the cold war between East and West, and that is what cultural, educational and informational programs add up to. Because Americans have an innate suspicion of propaganda on an organized basis, the United States has not matched Russia in the use of this weapon.

Russia does indeed have the counterpart of a cabinet-rank agency for propaganda, which has permitted Moscow frequently to lag behind this country in peace deeds but come out ahead in peace words. It can be argued that we should not be any more complacent about the Reds' propaganda advantage than we are about their technological advantage in space science.

Our propaganda efforts, divided as they are among the independent United States Information Agency, the State Department and the White House, probably would profit from coordination to achieve better direction and unity.

On the other hand, there is the danger of creating another big government agency of top-level status to become the object of political pressure and a competitor for federal funds in the international security battle.

THE DEFENSE DEPARTMENT is the best example available of a policy-making, cabinet-rank agency that was supposed to replace the waste of duplicated effort and conflicting viewpoints with a coordinated, unified, efficient military program.

If anything, things are worse in the five-sided monument to confusion on the Potomac than they were before.

If this were to be the destiny of the new propaganda agency, it would be wise to find other ways of improving the impact of our cultural, educational and informational works abroad.

With No Place To Hide

Americans are proud of the robot weatherman that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration says it has put into orbit around the earth.

Bit by bit, satellite by satellite, missile by missile, rocket-thrust by rocket-thrust, our space engineers are building faith in their ability to do anything they want to do. They still don't know how to hurl two tons of hardware beyond the earth's gravity, as their Russian counterparts do, but they are making progress.

They are doing what Americans traditionally have done when adversity pinned them down, struggling so hard to get up that when they make it they won't know when to stop; they will tackle everything in sight.

But with due allowance for the probability they do not mean all they say, because rocketeering is the hottest secret in military affairs, when they say a robot weatherman could take all the guesswork out of weather forecasting, their countrymen gulp hard. Would that be good?

We are thinking about last month, the meanest March since the U.S. Weather Bureau began to keep records in 1882. Suppose a robot weatherman had seen it coming and spilled the bad news late in February.

Panic would have erupted. A stream of refugees would have hit the outgoing roads, Florida-bound. Merchants would have discounted all their prospects before the month began, instead of waiting until it was more than half over to watch daily sales.

The awful feeling of frustration that settled gradually over people who fought snow and cold, day after day would have descended on them like a voodoo spell as soon as they heard what lay ahead. It would have knocked civilization into the first row of seats. We would have had our backs to the thermometer long before we finally admitted that March was too much for us.

In the absence of reliable information to the contrary, most of us believe the best about weather. We dread the worst only when it comes, preferring to think of it as an emergency. But if certainty replaced guesswork, it would be like knowing our own future. Wise men among us always have said that ignorance is bliss in that respect.

It is to be hoped that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is not as serious about this robot weatherman as it pretends to be—that it really is interested in its new satellite for some other reason.

If it ever became knowable in advance how bad the weather was going to be, a sizeable fraction of the human race would live in perpetual panic. It would see all the drouths, tornadoes, hurricanes, floods, tidal waves, snow storms and bone-chilling freezes coming—and there would be no place to hide.

Better Build Two At Once

An announcement that was being awaited in Napoleon's era is going to be made, apparently, when President De Gaulle visits London.

He and Prime Minister Macmillan are expected to tell their countrymen that all obstacles to a tunnel connecting France and Britain finally have been overcome. One of the most logical of all improvements on geography is finally going to be made.

It will surprise even the English and French to learn that the project was started before most of them were born. In 1882, both England and France began to dig, but before they had made any real progress their politicians and militarists raised so many cries of alarm the digging was stopped.

The difference between then and now is that politicians and militarists do not shout now with as loud a voice as economists and travelers, who want a cross-Channel tunnel so badly its construction would be a private project for profit. Engineering plans are for a two-track electric railway between Dover and Calais. The railway would carry high-speed freight, automobiles and passengers. It is believed to be impossible to build a tunnel of such length (about 36 miles) that could be used for auto traffic, because of ventilation difficulties.

The great incentive, as it has been in all man-made mutations of geography, would be commerce. That's why it can be predicted with complete certainty that the tunnel will not be large enough when it is built. The Suez Canal is not large enough. The Panama Canal isn't large enough. The Welland Canal has proved to be a bottleneck in the St. Lawrence Seaway. All the turnpikes built in the United States are too small to handle the traffic that will be flowing over them by the mid-60s.

The Dover-Calais tunnel that has been dreamed about for a century and a half will be too small if it materializes. It will take 15 years to build it. By 1975, three or four tunnels will be needed—not one.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Eliza Doolittle may have to be counted up there with Ike, Macmillan, Khrushchev and De Gaulle as factors for better understandings. She will reach Russia weeks before the Big Four has met anywhere. Prof. Henry Higgins will accompany her as an influence for improved relationships, peace, cultural exchanges and popular music.

"My Fair Lady" gets through without Camp David consultations. Russia and Uncle Sam are splitting the costs of transportation, hotels, meals, etc., all lend-lease suggestions having failed.

How Eliza and Henry are doing in Moscow may soon share attention with how Ike and Mac are doing in Paris. "I Could Have Danced All Night" could better express diplomatic routines at the summit than the spirit of love and kisses in the musical show.

Possible Pravda review: "My Fair Lady," a product of democracy, fresh from the Wall Street arena, opened with U.S.S.R. consent last night.

It is the story of Eliza Doolittle, an underprivileged toiler, lifted to a better life by one Prof. Boris Higgins through a phonograph lesson in enunciation, with no mention of an ideology, 25-year plans or moon photographs, a wholly absurd idea, as the whole world knows.

This is like pretending that a Sonia Doolittle could be encountered in Red Square by a Soviet minister of education and elevated to happiness through upper-class English diction. It is a clear violation of procedural rules. Prof. Higgins and Miss Doolittle achieve true love under the colonial system, a manifest impossibility.

"Get Me to the Church on Time" was permitted by the U.S.S.R., despite its religious implications. This musical by two capitalists, Loewe and Lerner, was based on a plot by G. Bernard Shaw, who stole it from Tolstoi. This could all be a plot against the U.S.S.R. by a vicious two-power bloc.

ROXY'S FAMED New York movie house not only in the city but from coast to coast, is no more. Bulldozers will soon mow it down. They will destroy not only a theater but an institution which, through its annual Christmas and Easter pageants, served for two generations as a builder of religious faith. Costly and beautiful portrayal of the journey to Bethlehem was seen by millions. There are men and women of middle age who were moved by it as kids. A hotel and garage will replace Roxy's in a response to demands of progress but no hotel, or skyscraper can ever cast the spell of Yuletide experienced there.

Public schools in New York announce a course to help kids achieve happy lives as homemakers. Early influences of double dating, single dating and "going steady" will be touched on. Remember away back when schools considered it tough enough to master job of helping kids get passing marks in reading, writing and arithmetic?

Sometimes it is hard to be sure whether Khrushchev is making a friendly visit or demonstrating disorderly conduct.

Ike and Macmillan have agreed in principle on stand with Russia. This is about as far apart as men can get.

"Do you mean to say you have never heard of payola in the newspaper business?" asked Mike Wallace of FTC boss, with the implication that Mike knew it to be widespread. This was low punch at press. If there has been any payola in the Fourth Estate it has been in less than one case out of tens of thousands.

The Sower

Strike Threatens Warning System

By Victor Riesel

Some of our military and diplomatic services may soon have to send their secretly coded messages by pigeon or bounce them off the moon to get them from the U.S. to Europe and back. Communications of America's most confidential agencies—the State Department included — are being threatened with a blackout by a strike scheduled to hit the Western Union's eastern telegraph and cable divisions June 1.

Victor Riesel

That stoppage is threatened by the small independent American Communications Assn. — practically unheard from since it was expelled from the old CIO for leaning, more than the Pisa Tower, to the left.

Such a strike — and no one doubts its legality — could disrupt the Air Force's worldwide communications system.

Such a stoppage could also disrupt the Air Force's new national alarm system which will light up big switchboards if a nuclear bomb goes off one day somewhere in the land.

THE AIR FORCE and Western Union people call this their fire alarm type system. This and the intricate network of overseas cables are serviced and maintained by the Western Union Co.

The company is unionized in New York by several locals of the military American Communications Workers.

Actual operation of some of the most secret communications lines across the land and to other countries is in government hands but the unionized civilian employes care for the equipment. There is no segregation of repair workers.

The maintenance people fix a government operated Western Union line one part of the day and then go elsewhere to handle a wire which speeds flowers and congratulations. So a strike of the various locals would pull out most of these maintenance men as well as 275 highly skilled cable operators.

This latter group of men is important because not everyone of the overseas cables carrying messages are operated by the government.

In one fashion or another the entire complex, centered in New York's magical communications hub, is used by the Pentagon, the State Department, the Navy, the Air Force, the National Security Agency and "other governmental bodies." Just which, no one ever says. The more you pry, the vaguer the answers get — as it should be.

The American Communications Assn. has been offered a five cents an hour wage increase by Western Union. The union has told the company that this is far from enough.

The ACA says that there'll be a strike if the company doesn't negotiate on much higher wages, more holidays, pensions, a shorter work week and job security in the face of the most fabulous automation in the world.

Watching this development and other strikes has wearied some of the Pentagon's labor experts.

THEY'VE BEEN HIT by a series of stoppages recently which give ordinary men the jitters. Out at California's Hamilton Air Force base, two picketing painters shut down some nine million dollars worth of construction on communications facilities, a jet strip, jet fuel pump transformers and housing projects. They struck for higher fringe benefits.

Not long after, the Electrical Brotherhood struck the Vandenberg Air Force intercontinental missile base for two days. The union halted Titan and Atlas launching pad work in protest against the hiring of other electrical workers being paid below union scale.

On the East Coast two nuclear ships and a guided missile vessel under construction have been delayed for almost two months by the Marine and Shipbuilding Workers strike against Bethlehem Steel Co.

At the Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island a small union of nuclear technicians walked out recently.

All this won't delay getting to the moon or defending ourselves. But what angers the Pentagon is the ever increasing costs and overtime work, needed to catch up, adds up in the millions of dollars.

Outside The Pale

By Truman Twill

This morning, for the sixth time in this 1960 lambing season, I went through the hard part. Another lamb that didn't make it had to be disposed of.

We're not having luck this year —and not because of the severe weather, either. It's only because there have been too many mixups in the instincts that control the corner of the animal kingdom where the sheep reside.

The lamb picked up for disposal this morning had been butted to death. There is nothing to go on but circumstantial evidence, because the tragedy occurred during the night.

But the lamb was aggressive. He was one of two kept alive by being bottle-fed. Because the temperature was low the day they were born as the first two of a set of triplets, they were taken into the house.

Their mother had become confused because these two first-born lambs wandered away from her, and when her third lamb was born she concentrated her attention on it. Later, when the first two tried to make up to her she refused to have anything to do with them.

The bottle-feeders were inseparable, so much so that they would refuse to eat unless they were in the same right and left position they had become accustomed to when they learned to hit the bottle.

Finally, it was time to move them outside. The weather had moderated. The time between their feedings could be lengthened. In due time, they were put with the flock. Everything seemed to be working out all right.

The other lambs accepted them; not knowing they were outcasts; that they had a different odor and different color, due to their long stay inside the house. It is never the unspoiled young who do the cruel, vicious things on this earth. They must be taught how to be cruel and vicious by their elders.

The old ewes with lambs of their own, it was hoped, would be patient about the rejected pair. Mostly the mothers are satisfied to nose away an intruder and let it go at that. And mostly the intruders get the idea and stay away.

It was the body of the aggressive lamb that was found this morning. It showed evidence of severe butting.

The lamb's aggressiveness and the instinct of a mother sheep to reject every lamb she does not recognize as her own was a fatal combination. In all probability, the little guy was pinned against a gate or the side of the tile barn by a battering-ram head propelled by 100-odd pounds of infuriated sheep. The job was thorough.

The surviving lamb was disconsolate. She stood by herself, huddled in the pale rays of a watery morning sun, bleating for her lost companion. From now on, she will live alone. The other lambs as they grow up will reject her. She is not like them. The older sheep will have nothing to do with her, unless she makes the fatal mistake of trying to do what her little brother did.

In that event, she will get the same treatment. She will be shown what happens to outsiders in this world who push in where they are not welcome. She will learn what it means to live outside the pale, if she lives — and I doubt there is a shepherd anywhere who hasn't thought when he sees that happen, "The poor creature would be better off dead."

Defense Contract

By David Lawrence

Committee Studies Old Officers In New Jobs

In these days of "payola" and accusations of "conflict of interest" with respect to members of federal commissions or agencies, it seems strange that a big question mark isn't getting much attention generally.

David Lawrence

This is in the Department of Defense and it concerns some of the generals and admirals who have retired from the armed services but who now draw big salaries from defense contractors and nevertheless maintain their own sales contracts at the Pentagon.

A House committee has held hearings and uncovered an unhealthy and questionable relationship between former military officers and the bureaus in the Pentagon that award contracts. The House of Representatives will vote on Wednesday of this week on a measure that would prohibit any officer for two years after his retirement from making any sales contacts with the Pentagon.

HOUSE MEMBERS generally are agreed that the practice should be discouraged but some of them want merely to limit the penalty to a loss of the retired pay.

Other members say that it would mean nothing for a retired officer to give up two years of a pension at $10,000 a year when he is being paid a salary of $50,000 or more by a defense contractor during each of those same two years.

Instead, Rep. F. Edward Hebert, (D-La), who has been leading the fight against the so-called "munitions lobby," is sponsoring an amendment to the pending bill so that it would be a violation of law, subject to criminal penalities, if any retired officer during the two years following his retirement engaged in any form of selling at the Pentagon.

This is in line with other existing law which forbids any attorney employed in the Internal Revenue Service from practicing before the Treasury Department for two years after he has left the government.

There is a similar statute which forbids attorneys from pressing monetary claims for clients before the government within two years after being employed in the Department of Justice.

Many of the military officers, while on active duty, have a voice in recommending the appointment of their own successors in charge of important defense projects. Naturally, it is inferred that there might be an obligation of some kind felt by the incumbent if his predecessor appeared before him later as a sales representative of a defense contractor.

"Conflicts of interest" are difficult to legislate upon and there is no way to instill honesty where it is absent but the government can take some steps to discourage "conflicts of interest." One method embodied in the pending bill in the House calls for publicity of the names of all former officers who are employed by defense contractors. Such an enrollment would be posted and distributed inside the bureaus at the Pentagon and kept up to date.

There have been provisions from time to time in appropriation laws, ever since 1896, aimed at those who retire from the armed services and take jobs with defense contractors but those statutes do not remain in permanent form in the law.

The present effort is to enact a broad statute that will stay in effect continuously and bar retired officers from becoming salesmen at the Pentagon for at least two years after their retirement.

THE HOUSE committee, which recently carried on an investigation of the whole subject for more than two months, found that there are 2,000 former officers now employed by defense contractors and of this number 260 are engaged in some form of selling at the Pentagon.

There is no objection, of course, to the employment of former officers by defense contractors.

The knowledge these servicemen have is valuable and can be of great help in developing the proper weapons and improving the nation's armament. But there is a differencce between duties that are confined to consultations held inside the defense contractor's own offices where advice is given to associates and a direct contact by such a retired officer on visits to the Pentagon.

There are other evils which have not yet been remedied but are under study by House members. These concern the activities of civilians who resign from active posts in the Department of Defense and immediately become highly placed executives in companies that are engaged in many billions of dollars of defense work. No bills have as yet been pressed on this issue but steps to deal with it are in the making.

There are upwards of 50 billion dollars of defense contracts each year and the existence of a "munitions lobby" has been mentioned by President Eisenhower himself at one of his press conferences. Much of the "missile gap" propaganda is believed to have had its origin among officers of defense-contractor companies.

It would be a tragic thing if Nikita Khrushchev were able to get any support for his constant cry that disarmament is being blocked in America and armament is being increased largely as a result of a "munitions lobby."

It is essential for the sound development of an effective defense program that America be rid of any practice that could cast doubt on the integrity of the Department of Defense and thus weaken the confidence of the American people in the judgment of the men who disburse the public funds for the armed services.

Eisenhower's Speeches

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower has made only a few political speeches so far in 1960 but they were enough to show:

1. Critics of his defense program get under his skin.

2. In this election year his main theme will be peace and prosperity.

3. He is going to plug for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Back in late January, in his first political speech of the year, he started banging at the critics—mainly Democratic would-be presidential candidates — of his administration's defense efforts.

His answer, repeated again in February and once more Monday night in a speech to Republican women, is that this country is the strongest on earth. He thought the criticism tough enough to require answer at least three times.

But Democratic charges that the American economy has been stunted during his seven years in office also irritate him. He has fought back on that, arguing his administration's aim was to preserve the stability of the dollar.

Monday night he returned to a justification of the way his administration has handled the economy.

This time he returned to an idea which he has used a number of times before — and attributed to Lincoln — that the government should only do what a citizen can't do for himself.

But the Democrats argue in essence that Eisenhower has simply failed to do enough.

As for Nixon: Eisenhower fired his opening gun in support of Nixon's presidential candidacy at a news conference last month. Monday night he expounded on Nixon's virtues as he sees them.

The list of his administration's accomplishments which he reeled off seemed clearly the foundation on which he will campaign this year to get a Republican president elected, with his own record as a base for his successor.

If all the points in the list could be bundled into one sentence they would carry the label peace and prosperity. This was pretty much his main theme in his 1956 campaign for his own re-election.

He hit hard on the reminder that it was in his administration the war in Korea was ended and that no American has died in battle since.

He repeated his belief in the need for a balanced budget although through most of his administration he has been unable to achieve it. He summed up in the following paragraph the various stops on the political organ he and the rest of the Republicans will play this year.

"The record is filled with such advances as improvements in the health and welfare of our people, the greater soundness, freedom and growth of our economy, increased modernization and strengthening of our defense, greater prestige abroad, and the initiation of a road-building program that dwarfs anything of its kind in all history of all nations."

Odd Facts

President Eisenhower, after graduation from Abilene, Kan., High School, was first appointed to Annapolis. But, he was 21, a year too old to enter the naval academy. So the appointment was changed to West Point where he could begin at 22.

But if certainty replaced guesswork, it would be like knowing our own future. Wise men among us always have said that ignorance is bliss in that respect.

It is to be hoped that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is not as serious about this robot weatherman as it pretends to be—that it really is interested in its new satellite for some other reason.

If it ever became knowable in advance how bad the weather was going to be, a sizeable fraction of the human race would live in perpetual panic. It would see all the drouths, tornadoes, hurricanes, floods, tidal waves, snow storms and bone-chilling freezes coming—and there would be no place to hide.

Better Build Two At Once

An announcement that was being awaited in Napoleon's era is going to be made, apparently, when President De Gaulle visits London.

He and Prime Minister Macmillan are expected to tell their countrymen that all obstacles to a tunnel connecting France and Britain finally have been overcome. One of the most logical of all improvements on geography is finally going to be made.

It will surprise even the English and French to learn that the project was started before most of them were born. In 1802, both England and France began to dig, but before they had made any real progress their politicians and militarists raised so many cries of alarm the digging was stopped.

The difference between then and now is that politicians and militarists do not shout now with as loud a voice as economists and travelers, who want a cross-Channel tunnel so badly its construction would be a private project for profit. Engineering plans are for a two-track electric railway between Dover and Calais. The railway would carry high-speed freight, automobiles and passengers. It is believed to be impossible to build a tunnel of such length (about 36 miles) that could be used for auto traffic, because of ventilation difficulties.

The great incentive, as it has been in all man-made mutations of geography, would be commerce. That's why it can be predicted with complete certainty that the tunnel will not be large enough when it is built. The Suez Canal is not large enough. The Panama Canal isn't large enough. The Welland Canal has proved to be a bottleneck in the St. Lawrence Seaway. All the turnpikes built in the United States are too small to handle the traffic that will be flowing over them by the mid-60s.

The Dover-Calais tunnel that has been dreamed about for a century and a half will be too small if it materializes. It will take 15 years to build it. By 1975, three or four tunnels will be needed—not one.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Eliza Doolittle may have to be counted up there with Ike, Macmillan, Khrushchev and De Gaulle as factors for better understandings. She will reach Russia weeks before the Big Four has met anywhere. Prof. Henry Higgins will accompany her as an influence for improved relationships, peace, cultural exchanges and popular music.

"My Fair Lady" gets through without Camp David consultations. Russia and Uncle Sam are splitting the costs of transportation, hotels, meals, etc., all lend-lease suggestions having failed.

How Eliza and Henry are doing in Moscow may soon share attention with how Ike and Mac are doing in Paris. "I Could Have Danced All Night" could better express diplomatic routines at the summit than the spirit of love and kisses in the musical show.

Possible Pravda review: "My Fair Lady," a product of democracy, fresh from the Wall Street arena, opened with U.S.S.R. consent last night.

It is the story of Eliza Doolittle, an underprivileged teller, lifted to a better life by one Prof. Boris Higgins through a phonograph lesson in enunciation, with no mention of an ideology, 25-year plans or moon photographs, a wholly absurd idea, as the whole world knows.

This is like pretending that a Sonia Doolittle could be encountered in Red Square by a Soviet minister of education and elevated to happiness through upper-class English diction. It is a clear violation of procedural rules. Prof. Higgins and Miss Doolittle achieve true love under the colonial system, a manifest impossibility.

"Get Me to the Church on Time" was permitted by the U.S.S.R., despite its religious implications. This musical by two capitalists, Loewe and Lerner, was based on a plot by G. Bernard Shaw, who stole it from Tolstoi. This could all be a plot against the U.S.S.R. by a vicious two-power bloc.

ROXY'S FAMED New York movie house not only in the city but from coast to coast, is no more. Bulldozers will soon mow it down. They will destroy not only a theater but an institution which, through its annual Christmas and Easter pageants, served for two generations as a builder of religious faith. Costly and beautiful portrayal of the journey to Bethlehem was seen by millions. There are men and women of middle age who were moved by it as kids. A hotel and garage will replace Roxy's in a response to demands of progress but no hotel, or skyscraper can ever cast the spell of Yuletide experienced there.

Public schools in New York announce a course to help kids achieve happy lives as homemakers. Early influences of double dating, single dating and "going steady" will be touched on. Remember away back when schools considered it tough enough to master job of helping kids get passing marks in reading, writing and arithmetic?

Sometimes it is hard to be sure whether Khrushchev is making a friendly visit or demonstrating disorderly conduct.

Ike and Macmillan have agreed in principle on stand with Russia. This is about as far apart as men can get.

"Do you mean to say you have never heard of payola in the newspaper business?" asked Mike Wallace of FTC boss, with the implication that Mike knew it to be widespread. This was low punch at press. If there has been any payola in the Fourth Estate it has been in less than one case out of tens of thousands.

Strike Threatens Warning System

By Victor Riesel

Some of our military and diplomatic services may soon have to send their secretly coded messages by pigeon or bounce them off the moon to get them from the U.S. to Europe and back. Communications of America's most confidential agencies—the State Department included — are being threatened with a blackout by a strike scheduled to hit the Western Union's eastern telegraph and cable divisions June 1.

Victor Riesel

That stoppage is threatened by the small independent American Communications Assn. — practically unheard from since it was expelled from the old CIO for leaning, more than the Pisa Tower, to the left.

Such a strike — and no one doubts its legality — could disrupt the Air Force's worldwide communications system.

Such a stoppage could also disrupt the Air Force's new national alarm system which will light up big switchboards if a nuclear bomb goes off one day somewhere in the land.

THE AIR FORCE and Western Union people call this their fire alarm type system. This and the intricate network of overseas cables are serviced and maintained by the Western Union Co.

The company is unionized in New York by several locals of the military American Communications Workers.

Actual operation of some of the most secret communications lines across the land and to other countries is in government hands but the unionized civilian employes care for the equipment. There is no segregation of repair workers.

The maintenance people fix a government operated Western Union line one part of the day and then go elsewhere to handle a wire which speeds flowers and congratulations. So a strike of the various locals would pull out most of these maintenance men as well as 275 highly skilled cable operators.

This latter group of men is important because not everyone of the overseas cables carrying messages are operated by the government.

In one fashion or another the entire complex, centered in New York's magical communications hub, is used by the Pentagon, the State Department, the Navy, the Air Force, the National Security Agency and "other governmental bodies." Just which, no one ever says. The more you pry, the vaguer the answers get — as it should be.

The American Communications Assn. has been offered a five cents an hour wage increase by Western Union. The union has told the company that this is far from enough.

The ACA says that there'll be a strike if the company doesn't negotiate on much higher wages, more holidays, pensions, a shorter work week and job security in the face of the most fabulous automation in the world.

Watching this development and other strikes has wearied some of the Pentagon's labor experts.

THEY'VE BEEN HIT by a series of stoppages recently which give ordinary men the jitters. Out at California's Hamilton Air Force base, two picketing painters shut down some nine million dollars worth of construction on communications facilities, a jet strip, jet fuel pump transformers and housing projects. They struck for higher fringe benefits.

Not long after, the Electrical Brotherhood struck the Vandenberg Air Force intercontinental missile base for two days. The union halted Titan and Atlas launching pad work in protest against the hiring of other electrical workers being paid below union scale.

On the East Coast two nuclear ships and a guided missile vessel under construction have been delayed for almost two months by the Marine and Shipbuilding Workers strike against Bethlehem Steel Co.

At the Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island a small union of nuclear technicians walked out recently.

All this won't delay getting to the moon or defending ourselves. But what angers the Pentagon is the ever increasing costs and overtime work, needed to catch up, adds up in the millions of dollars.

Outside The Pale

By Truman Twill

This morning, for the sixth time in this 1960 lambing season, I went through the hard part. Another lamb that didn't make it had to be disposed of.

We're not having luck this year —and not because of the severe weather, either. It's only because there have been too many mixups in the instincts that control the corner of the animal kingdom where the sheep reside.

The lamb picked up for disposal this morning had been butted to death. There is nothing to go on but circumstantial evidence, because the tragedy occurred during the night.

But the lamb was aggressive. He was one of two kept alive by being bottle-fed. Because the temperature was low the day they were born as the first two of a set of triplets, they were taken into the house.

Their mother had become confused because these two first-born lambs wandered away from her, and when her third lamb was born she concentrated her attention on it. Later, when the first two tried to make up to her she refused to have anything to do with them.

The bottle-feeders were inseparable, so much so that they would refuse to eat unless they were in the same right and left position they had become accustomed to when they learned to hit the bottle.

Finally, it was time to move them outside. The weather had moderated. The time between their feedings could be lengthened. In due time, they were put with the flock. Everything seemed to be working out all right.

The other lambs accepted them; not knowing they were outcasts; that they had a different odor and different color, due to their long stay inside the house. It is never the unspoiled young who do the cruel, vicious things on this earth. They must be taught how to be cruel and vicious by their elders.

The old ewes with lambs of their own, it was hoped, would be patient about the rejected pair. Mostly the mothers are satisfied to nose away an intruder and let it go at that. And mostly the intruders get the idea and stay away.

It was the body of the aggressive lamb that was found this morning. It showed evidence of severe butting.

The lamb's aggressiveness and the instinct of a mother sheep to reject every lamb she does not recognize as her own was a fatal combination. In all probability, the little guy was pinned against a gate or the side of the tile barn by a battering-ram head propelled by 100-odd pounds of infuriated sheep. The job was thorough.

The surviving lamb was disconsolate. She stood by herself, huddled in the pale rays of a watery morning sun, bleating for her lost companion. From now on, she will live alone. The other lambs as they grow up will reject her. She is not like them. The older sheep will have nothing to do with her, unless she makes the fatal mistake of trying to do what her little brother did.

In that event, she will get the same treatment. She will be shown what happens to outsiders in this world who push in where they are not welcome. She will learn what it means to live outside the pale, if she lives — and I doubt there is a shepherd anywhere who hasn't thought when he sees that happen, "The poor creature would be better off dead."

Defense Contract

By David Lawrence

Committee Studies Old Officers In New Jobs

In these days of "payola" and accusations of "conflict of interest" with respect to members of federal commissions or agencies, it seems strange that a big question mark isn't getting much attention generally.

David Lawrence

This is in the Department of Defense and it concerns some of the generals and admirals who have retired from the armed services but who now draw big salaries from defense contractors and nevertheless maintain their own sales contracts at the Pentagon.

A House committee has held hearings and uncovered an unhealthy and questionable relationship between former military officers and the bureaus in the Pentagon that award contracts. The House of Representatives will vote on Wednesday of this week on a measure that would prohibit any officer for two years after his retirement from making any sales contacts with the Pentagon.

HOUSE MEMBERS generally are agreed that the practice should be discouraged but some of them want merely to limit the penalty to a loss of the retired pay.

Other members say that it would mean nothing for a retired officer to give up two years of a pension at $10,000 a year when he is being paid a salary of $50,000 or more by a defense contractor during each of those same two years.

Instead, Rep. F. Edward Hebert, (D-La), who has been leading the fight against the so-called "munitions lobby," is sponsoring an amendment to the pending bill so that it would be a violation of law, subject to criminal penalities, if any retired officer during the two years following his retirement engaged in any form of selling at the Pentagon.

This is in line with other existing law which forbids any attorney employed in the Internal Revenue Service from practicing before the Treasury Department for two years after he has left the government.

There is a similar statute which forbids attorneys from pressing monetary claims for clients before the government within two years after being employed in the Department of Justice.

Many of the military officers, while on active duty, have a voice in recommending the appointment of their own successors in charge of important defense projects. Naturally, it is inferred that there might be an obligation of some kind felt by the incumbent if his predecessor appeared before him later as a sales representative of a defense contractor.

"Conflicts of interest" are difficult to legislate upon and there is no way to instill honesty where it is absent but the government can take some steps to discourage "conflicts of interest." One method embodied in the pending bill in the House calls for publicity of the names of all former officers who are employed by defense contractors. Such an enrollment would be posted and distributed inside the bureaus at the Pentagon and kept up to date.

There have been provisions from time to time in appropriation laws, ever since 1896, aimed at those who retire from the armed services and take jobs with defense contractors but those statutes do not remain in permanent form in the law.

The present effort is to enact a broad statute that will stay in effect continuously and bar retired officers from becoming salesmen at the Pentagon for at least two years after their retirement.

THE HOUSE committee, which recently carried on an investigation of the whole subject for more than two months, found that there are 2,000 former officers now employed by defense contractors and of this number 260 are engaged in some form of selling at the Pentagon.

There is no objection, of course, to the employment of former officers by defense contractors.

The knowledge these servicemen have is valuable and can be of great help in developing the proper weapons and improving the nation's armament. But there is a differencce between duties that are confined to consultations held inside the defense contractor's own offices where advice is given to associates and a direct contact by such a retired officer on visits to the Pentagon.

There are other evils which have not yet been remedied but are under study by House members. These concern the activities of civilians who resign from active posts in the Department of Defense and immediately become highly placed executives in companies that are engaged in many billions of dollars of defense work. No bills have as yet been pressed on this issue but steps to deal with it are in the making.

There are upwards of 50 billion dollars of defense contracts each year and the existence of a "munitions lobby" has been mentioned by President Eisenhower himself at one of his press conferences. Much of the "missile gap" propaganda is believed to have had its origin among officers of defense-contractor companies.

It would be a tragic thing if Nikita Khrushchev were able to get any support for his constant cry that disarmament is being blocked in America and armament is being increased largely as a result of a "munitions lobby."

It is essential for the sound development of an effective defense program that America be rid of any practice that could cast doubt on the integrity of the Department of Defense and thus weaken the confidence of the American people in the judgment of the men who disburse the public funds for the armed services.

Eisenhower's Speeches

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Eisenhower has made only a few political speeches so far in 1960 but they were enough to show:

1. Critics of his defense program get under his skin.

2. In this election year his main theme will be peace and prosperity.

3. He is going to plug for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Back in late January, in his first political speech of the year, he started banging at the critics—mainly Democratic would-be presidential candidates — of his administration's defense efforts.

His answer, repeated again in February and once more Monday night in a speech to Republican women, is that this country is the strongest on earth. He thought the criticism tough enough to require answer at least three times.

But Democratic charges that the American economy has been stunted during his seven years in office also irriteste him. He has fought back on that, arguing his administration's aim was to preserve the stability of the dollar.

Monday night he returned to a justification of the way his administration has handled the economy.

This time he returned to an idea which he has used a number of times before — and attributed to Lincoln — that the government should only do what a citizen can't do for himself.

But the Democrats argue in essence that Eisenhower has simply failed to do enough.

As for Nixon: Eisenhower fired his opening gun in support of Nixon's presidential candidacy at a news conference last month. Monday night he expounded on Nixon's virtues as he sees them.

The list of his administration's accomplishments which he reeled off seemed clearly the foundation on which he will campaign this year to get a Republican president elected, with his own record as a base for his successor.

If all the points in the list could be bundled into one sentence they would carry the label peace and prosperity. This was pretty much his main theme in his 1956 campaign for his own re-election.

He hit hard on the reminder that it was in his administration the war in Korea was ended and that no American has died in battle since.

He repeated his belief in the need for a balanced budget although through most of his administration he has been unable to achieve it. He summed up in the following paragraph the various stops on the political organ he and the rest of the Republicans will play this year.

"The record is filled with such advances as improvements in the health and welfare of our people, the greater soundness, freedom and growth of our economy, increased modernization and strengthening of our defense, greater prestige abroad, and the initiation of a road-building program that dwarfs anything of its kind in all history of all nations."

Odd Facts

President Eisenhower, after graduation from Abilene, Kan., High School, was first appointed to Annapolis. But, he was 21, a year too old to enter the naval academy. So the appointment was changed to West Point where he could begin at 22.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Happiness And Obedience Go Together

By Garry Meyer.

Show me a child, three, four or five, who rarely hears No but, when he does hear it, obeys it promptly and without emotional upset; who conforms well to the few necessary regulations and routines in a family where he feels loved and secure, and I will show you a happy child. Unless he learns such obedience and conformity he can hardly feel he is loved much. Every futile effort of his parents to effect such obedience annoys him and them. The less successful they are in cultivating reasonable obedience in him the more the mutual vexations and the less the parent and child will enjoy each other.

CONSISTENTLY, in this column, I have maintained that the child must be taught early respect for the little word No, rarely uttered, as a first essential in guaranteeing to him as much love and security as he deserves.

Often I have described effective techniques for teaching the tot to respect No with the least possible annoyance to him and his parents. I have urged that, while parents should aim to early exact limitations, physical pain should be used as seldom as possible.

Yet I've never seen how the child could learn to respect No without receiving some physical pain until the word alone sufficed to restrain him.

—:—

BUT MANY young children are often spanked, even brutally beaten, without learning to respect No. The errors in their cases were in wrong selection of the times when to say No, or the inconsistency and lack of skill in establishing respect for this monosyllable.

When we parents say No to a tot, we need first to be sure we should say it. We need also to be sure we can enforce it effectively.

And at all times we need to have complete self-control.

Furthermore, we need to be sure when we say No to the tot that there are many, many things or activities he can turn to with satisfaction, and that we can reinforce these satisfactions.

WITH A few limitations settled, we should be able to help him find more enjoyments. We'll have more time to read to him, talk with him, explain things to him, make things with him, have fun with other children—and thus really express our genuine affection for him.

My bulletins, "Love and Restraint" and "Enjoying Our Children," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Happiness And Obedience Go Together

Show me a child, three, four or five, who rarely hears No but, when he does hear it, obeys it promptly and without emotional upset; who conforms well to the few necessary regulations and routines in a family where he feels loved and secure, and I will show you a happy child. Unless he learns such obedience and conformity he can hardly feel he is loved much. Every futile effort of his parents to effect such obedience annoys him and them. The less successful they are in cultivating reasonable obedience in him the more the mutual vexations and the less the parent and child will enjoy each other.

By Garry Meyer.

CONSISTENTLY, in this column, I have maintained that the child must be taught early respect for the little word No, rarely uttered, as a first essential in guaranteeing to him as much love and security as he deserves.

Often I have described effective techniques for teaching the tot to respect No with the least possible annoyance to him and his parents. I have urged that, while parents should aim to early exact limitations, physical pain should be used as seldom as possible.

Yet I've never seen how the child could learn to respect No without receiving some physical pain until the word alone sufficed to restrain him.

—:—

BUT MANY young children are often spanked, even brutally beaten, without learning to respect No. The errors in their cases were in wrong selection of the times when to say No, or the inconsistency and lack of skill in establishing respect for this monosyllable.

When we parents say No to a tot, we need first to be sure we should say it. We need also to be sure we can enforce it effectively.

And at all times we need to have complete self-control.

Furthermore, we need to be sure when we say No to the tot that there are many, many things or activities he can turn to with satisfaction, and that we can reinforce these satisfactions.

WITH A few limitations settled, we should be able to help him find more enjoyments. We'll have more time to read to him, talk with him, explain things to him, make things with him, have fun with other children—and thus really express our genuine affection for him.

My bulletins, "Love and Restraint" and "Enjoying Our Children," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Student Waits Honors At Pittsburgh Program

Miss Sue Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hill, 1561 Globe St., will be among students receiving recognition at the annual "Honors Convocation" of the University of Pittsburgh Wednesday morning at Syria Mosque.

Pearl Buck, author and winner of the Nobel prize, will deliver the address.

Miss Hill, a sophomore in the School of Pharmacy, recently was elected treasurer of Sigma Sigma Sigma, social sorority. She also is historian of the Lambda Kappa Sigma, professional sorority, and is on the editorial staff of the school magazine The Pitt Capsule. She is a 1958 graduate of East Liverpool High School.

Library Plans 'Story Hours'

The spring session of the preschool story hour will begin Wednesday at Carnegie Public Library.

The program will be conducted each Wednesday for six weeks and will be under the direction of Mrs. Hilda McEwen, children's librarian. She will be assisted by Mrs. Anne Triguba, who will lead singing games.

The story hour will be conducted twice each Wednesday — from 10 to 11 a. m. and 2 to 3 p. m. Children must be at least 3 before they can attend. Parents should register their youngsters by phone since seating is limited. The number is FU 5-2048.

Miss Joan Gilmore, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William Gilmore of Manor Ln., has loaned the library her collection of oriental dolls during the observance of National Library Week. The dolls have been used to suggest the theme for the story series, which will include several Oriental stories.

There also will be popular perennials such as the Walt Disney singing version of "The Three Little Pigs." Mrs. Triguba will feature a game called "Pick A Tune."

The dolls of Miss Gilmore include a Kabuki dancer and Siamese dancer. They were sent her by her father and her grandmother of San Francisco at various times when they were traveling in the Far East.

The Midland Junior Women's Club was also granted use of the rooms for meetings the second Wednesday of each month. In other business, the post requested sponsorship of Cub Pack 415 and entered the Junior Legion Baseball League.

Plans are being made for a Memorial Day observance. William R. Doyle Jr. will be chairman.

IBOP

general headquarters will lift this international union and its membership onto a level comparable with other internationals who have graduated out of the horse and buggy valley of distressed conditions and beliefs.

"The IBOP is so very loosely democratic that sometimes it seems as if anarchy creeps in.

"Our opinion is that East Liverpool, as a pottery center, has always been a surplus labor area. The brotherhood's membership rolls have been for many years and still are loaded with unemployed.

"Therefore, we never are surprised or suffer from ulcers because in such an atmosphere and surroundings there are Quislings or reactionary politicians constantly seeking court actions against the union or its officers.

"The greatest harm probably any organized group of workers will experience will result from anonymous and poison-pen anti-unionists and do-gooders who will be against any and every legal action taken in union sessions. They will cause witch hunts and character assassinations is past history holds true."

—:—

WHEATLEY said organized labor now is in the same position as churches or fraternal organizations would be if a new law was adopted to investigate sinners or backsliders, referring to the McClellan committee investigations and the Landrum-Griffin bill.

"As I turn this hallowed earth with the fondest desire for a building that will house honest, fair ways and means for organized potters and their families to attain economic, social and spiritual benefits in keeping with the American standards of living, I also face a summons to court," Wheatley concluded.

Preceding his talk, prayers were offered by Dr. D. Finley Wood, pastor of the First Methodist Church; the Rev. Thomas Mulhearn, assistant pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, and Rabbi Henry Lieberman of B'Nai Jacob Synagogue.

—:—

WHEATLEY SAID the summons was served earlier yesterday. The hearing on the suit is scheduled April 29 before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

The suits were filed by six plaintiffs, including James M. Duffy, former IBOP president, Frank Duffy, Austin G. MacKenzie, W. H. Young and Lawrence Findlay of East Liverpool and Floyd B. Jividen of Newell.

They alleged the officers acted "without proper authority" in purchasing the tract, allocating funds and accepting bids. The officers also "improperly rejected" petitions from five locals asking a trade referendum, the suit alleges.

The building program was authorized at the union's 1959 convention in Montreal but the dissident group has been seeking a vote of the trade on the proposal.

—:—

ELEVEN LOCAL unions filed resolutions requesting the referendum, but five were rejected by the union's executive board, which said at least eight locals must submit valid resolutions before a referendum can be called.

Mark Twain rephrased it this way: "The lack of money is the root of all evil."

ELECTRIC HEAT

...the better way to heat your home

A new kind of COMFORT is the best of all Electric heat advantages.

Electric Heat is like sunshine heat... pure, clean, draft-free. Floors stay cozy warm (wonderful for children) and each room has its own thermostat — its own "invisible" furnace — to give room-by-room heat control.

Electric Heat is always safe. You'll worry less... at home or away. You'll work less, too, because there's no soot, no greasy film, no filters to change.

And, you'll spend less for maintenance. Electric Heat is so simple — no complex controls, no motors, no complicated piping, no fuel storage, nothing to oil or adjust or replace.

More than 5,000 of our customers (including one-fifth of new homes built last year in Ohio Power territory) now heat the modern, worth more ELECTRIC way.

ELECTRIC HEAT COST FOR AVERAGE 1200-SQUARE-FOOT HOME IS ABOUT $15 A MONTH. *Before you buy, build or remodel, find out how little it costs to protect your investment with the only modern heating system that will stay modern. IBOP

general headquarters will lift this international union and its membership onto a level comparable with other internationals who have graduated out of the horse and buggy valley of distressed conditions and beliefs.

"The IBOP is so very loosely democratic that sometimes it seems as if anarchy creeps in.

"Our opinion is that East Liverpool, as a pottery center, has always been a surplus labor area. The brotherhood's membership rolls have been for many years and still are loaded with unemployed.

"Therefore, we never are surprised or suffer from ulcers because in such an atmosphere and surroundings there are Quislings or reactionary politicians constantly seeking court actions against the union or its officers.

"The greatest harm probably any organized group of workers will experience will result from anonymous and poison-pen anti-unionists and do-gooders who will be against any and every legal action taken in union sessions. They will cause witch hunts and character assassinations is past history holds true."

—:—

WHEATLEY said organized labor now is in the same position as churches or fraternal organizations would be if a new law was adopted to investigate sinners or backsliders, referring to the McClellan committee investigations and the Landrum-Griffin bill.

"As I turn this hallowed earth with the fondest desire for a building that will house honest, fair ways and means for organized potters and their families to attain economic, social and spiritual benefits in keeping with the American standards of living, I also face a summons to court," Wheatley concluded.

Preceding his talk, prayers were offered by Dr. D. Finley Wood, pastor of the First Methodist Church; the Rev. Thomas Mulhearn, assistant pastor of St. Aloysius Catholic Church, and Rabbi Henry Lieberman of B'Nai Jacob Synagogue.

—:—

WHEATLEY SAID the summons was served earlier yesterday. The hearing on the suit is scheduled April 29 before Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon.

The suits were filed by six plaintiffs, including James M. Duffy, former IBOP president, Frank Duffy, Austin G. MacKenzie, W. H. Young and Lawrence Findlay of East Liverpool and Floyd B. Jividen of Newell.

They alleged the officers acted "without proper authority" in purchasing the tract, allocating funds and accepting bids. The officers also "improperly rejected" petitions from five locals asking a trade referendum, the suit alleges.

The building program was authorized at the union's 1959 convention in Montreal but the dissident group has been seeking a vote of the trade on the proposal.

—:—

ELEVEN LOCAL unions filed resolutions requesting the referendum, but five were rejected by the union's executive board, which said at least eight locals must submit valid resolutions before a referendum can be called.

Mark Twain rephrased it this way: "The lack of money is the root of all evil."

Lower Prices On Vegetables Cited By Agent

Asparagus and cauliflower offer consumers an attractive buy this week, according to Ed Watkins, market information agent with the Agricultural Extension Service.

Warm weather in California has put an unusually large supply of excellent quality asparagus on the markets, he said. As a consequence, grower prices are at an extremely low level and the consumer can take advantage of economical prices much earlier in the season than is normally true, he said.

Some of the best quality cauliflower of the season is available at rather attractive prices. The heads are good sized, firm and heavy. Other vegetables on the economical side are cabbage, dry onions, green onions, celery, endive, escarole, peppers and radishes. Increasing supplies of new cabbage, celery, green peppers, radishes squash and tomatoes point to lower prices in the weeks ahead on these items.

Fresh pineapple and greenhouse grown rhubarb offer a wider vaiety in fresh fruits on this week's food markets. Bananas continue to be a good value, along with grapefruit and oranges. Grapefruit supplies left to market are smaller than last year at this time. This will cause prices to rise gradually as the grapefruit season draws to a close.

Pork is somewhat higher in price as producer prices have gained in recent weeks. One of the most economical cuts of pork on the basis of the cost per pound of lean meat is Boston butts. Bacon prices will become a little higher in the weeks ahead.

Poultry fryers are becoming more plentiful and will again become one of the features of the meat counters. They already rate among the top values for meat supplies. Egg prices probably have reached their peak and will hold at about present levels until Easter. Some reduction in price soon after is rather likely.

Ball League Planned

LISBON—Formation of a men's softball league will be discussed at a meeting Friday night at 8 on the second floor of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post home. Any man interested may attend, sponsors said. Information also is available from Darrel Jackson by phoning HA 4-7440.

Sale Of Seals Totals $2,438

The Easter Seal sales campaign of the Hancock County Society for Crippled Children and Adults has reached $2,438.71, chairmen of the society reported today.

The campaign opened March 31 and will continue until Easter Sunday, April 17. The 1960 goal for aiding crippled children and adults of the county is $7,000.

The society reported $1,500 received through the mail in donations. A total of 11,000 letters was mailed earlier requesting donations and county residents have been urged to send donations as soon as possible.

The organization realized $706.67 from a roadblock set up on Freedom Way in Weirton March 31. Motorists were solicited by the firing squad of the Weirton Veterans of Foreign Wars and Weirton police. Returns from a "Coffee Day" held March 31 totaled $232.04, chairmen reported.

Mrs. Clayton H. Hobbs, Chester campaign chairman, said a roadblock will be set up in Chester April 15 to receive donations from motorists. Mrs. J. Carl Durham is Newell's chairman.

Cannisters distributed in county business establishments by Mrs. Anna McNeil of New Cumberland, chairman, will be picked up after Easter.

Lower Prices On Vegetables Cited By Agent

Asparagus and cauliflower offer consumers an attractive buy this week, according to Ed Watkins, market information agent with the Agricultural Extension Service.

Warm weather in California has put an unusually large supply of excellent quality asparagus on the markets, he said. As a consequence, grower prices are at an extremely low level and the consumer can take advantage of economical prices much earlier in the season than is normally true, he said.

Some of the best quality cauliflower of the season is available at rather attractive prices. The heads are good sized, firm and heavy. Other vegetables on the economical side are cabbage, dry onions, green onions, celery, endive, escarole, peppers and radishes. Increasing supplies of new cabbage, celery, green peppers, radishes squash and tomatoes point to lower prices in the weeks ahead on these items.

Fresh pineapple and greenhouse grown rhubarb offer a wider variety in fresh fruits on this week's food markets. Bananas continue to be a good value, along with grapefruit and oranges. Grapefruit supplies left to market are smaller than last year at this time. This will cause prices to rise gradually as the grapefruit season draws to a close.

Pork is somewhat higher in price as producer prices have gained in recent weeks. One of the most economical cuts of pork on the basis of the cost per pound of lean meat is Boston butts. Bacon prices will become a little higher in the weeks ahead.

Poultry fryers are becoming more plentiful and will again become one of the features of the meat counters. They already rate among the top values for meat supplies. Egg prices probably have reached their peak and will hold at about present levels until Easter. Some reduction in price soon after is rather likely.

Ball League Planned

Sale Of Seals Totals $2,438

The Easter Seal sales campaign of the Hancock County Society for Crippled Children and Adults has reached $2,438.71, chairmen of the society reported today.

The campaign opened March 31 and will continue until Easter Sunday, April 17. The 1960 goal for aiding crippled children and adults of the county is $7,000.

The society reported $1,500 received through the mail in donations. A total of 11,000 letters was mailed earlier requesting donations and county residents have been urged to send donations as soon as possible.

The organization realized $706.67 from a roadblock set up on Freedom Way in Weirton March 31. Motorists were solicited by the firing squad of the Weirton Veterans of Foreign Wars and Weirton police. Returns from a "Coffee Day" held March 31 totaled $232.04, chairmen reported.

Mrs. Clayton H. Hobbs, Chester campaign chairman, said a roadblock will be set up in Chester April 15 to receive donations from motorists. Mrs. J. Carl Durham is Newell's chairman.

Cannisters distributed in county business establishments by Mrs. Anna McNeil of New Cumberland, chairman, will be picked up after Easter.

Miss Donna Louise DeBee Marries In Rites At Chester

MRS. BLAINE ALLISON
Residing In Chester.

Miss Donna Louise DeBee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen DeBee of Kenilworth, Newell, became the bride of Blaine C. Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Allison of 110 10th St., Chester, on March 25 in the Chester Christian Church.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Earliss Gleaton, pastor, before an altar setting of palms, baskets of white flowers and lighted 7-branch candelabra.

Mrs. Elmer Kell, organist, presented a quarter-hour of nuptial music. Edward DeBee, uncle of the bride, sang "Through the Years," "If I Could Tell You" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The fitted bodice was designed with a Sabrina neckline and cap sleeves. Her bouffant skirt featured a lace panel extending to the hemline. She wore long white tulle mitts and a pearl pendant with earrings to match, the gift of the bridegroom.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a double-pointed crown of iridescent sequins and seed pearls. She carried a gold prayer book topped with an arrangement of white carnations and roses centered with pink rosebuds, tied with satin streamers.

Following the familiar tradition, she wore a small brooch her mother wore at her wedding and carried the handkerchief of Miss Mary Jane Derda. The penny in her shoe was given to her by a nephew, Jimmy Ray DeBee.

Miss Karen Broomhall was the maid of honor and Miss Alice Osburn was the bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of pale, pink chiffon fashioned with fitted bodices and accented with tiny, satin buttons down the back. Their headpieces were matching Dior bows holding circular veils. They wore long pink gloves and carried Colonial bouquets — roses for the maid of honor and carnations for the bridesmaid.

Trudy Allison, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Her dress was made of white lace over pink nylon. She wore a headband of pink rosebuds and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

Miss Donna Louise DeBee Marries In Rites At Chester

MRS. BLAINE ALLISON

Residing In Chester.

Miss Donna Louise DeBee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen DeBee of Kenilworth, Newell, became the bride of Blaine C. Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Allison of 110 10th St., Chester, on March 25 in the Chester Christian Church.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Earliss Gleaton, pastor, before an altar setting of palms, baskets of white flowers and lighted 7-branch candelabra.

Mrs. Elmer Kell, organist, presented a quarter-hour of nuptial music. Edward DeBee, uncle of the bride, sang "Through the Years," "If I Could Tell You" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The fitted bodice was designed with a Sabrina neckline and cap sleeves. Her bouffant skirt featured a lace panel extending to the hemline. She wore long white tulle mitts and a pearl pendant with earrings to match, the gift of the bridegroom.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a double-pointed crown of iridescent sequins and seed pearls. She carried a gold prayer book topped with an arrangement of white carnations and roses centered with pink rosebuds, tied with satin streamers.

Following the familiar tradition, she wore a small brooch her mother wore at her wedding and carried the handkerchief of Miss Mary Jane Derda. The penny in her shoe was given to her by a nephew, Jimmy Ray DeBee.

Miss Karen Broomhall was the maid of honor and Miss Alice Osburn was the bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of pale, pink chiffon fashioned with fitted bodices and accented with tiny, satin buttons down the back. Their headpieces were matching Dior bows holding circular veils. State Orders Another Built

Lincoln School Needs Fire Escape

The Board of Education learned officially Monday night it must construct another fire escape at Lincoln School and expand one erected last year to take in a third classroom.

Supt. Ralph W. Betts said state building officials have ordered installation of the fire escape on the west side of the structure. It will provide an exit for three classrooms on the second floor.

—:—

IN ADDITION, the fire escape erected last summer on the east side must be lengthened and a doorway cut to provide an exit for pupils in a third classroom.

Responding to questions from board members, the superintendent said state building officials approved the plans for the fire escape before the installation was started.

At that time, the plans covered only two classrooms, he explained. Because of a change in official thinking, the exit for the third classroom must be provided.

Robert F. Beatty, East Liverpool architect, who drew up the plans for the original fire escape, will be retained to prepare plans for the new fire escape, the board decided.

The board also adopted a policy to allow each building to decide whether individual pictures of each student shall be in color or black and white.

—:—

IT FIXED the maximum prices at $2.95 for a set of color pictures and $2 for black and white, an increase of 50 cents over the previous maximum.

A decision on the use of school buildings when no Board of Education representative is present was tabled for further study. Supt. Betts reported he had received a request from a parent - teacher group requesting the use of a building for weekly Boy Scout meetings.

A resolution granting a year's leave of absence to Austen Moore, high school driving instructor, for further professional study, was amended to specify the section of the state code under which it was granted.

—:—

THE STATE code section should be specified so there can be no question concerning partial payment of salary or retirement payments, the superintendent told the board.

Moore has withdrawn his original request to be paid the difference in his salary and that of his successor, Betts said.

The board also conferred informally with George Bloomgren, city engineer, on plans for the W. 8th St. interchange of the proposed city expressway from the city limits in California Hollow to W. 3rd and Monroe Sts.

It also decided to write the State Highway Department requesting a fence and sidewalk on the west side of the south ramp from the sidewalk in front of Westgate School to the W. 7th St. underpass to prevent children from reaching the highway.

Board members suggested copies be sent to Bloomgren, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and City Council.

In another decision, the board decided to divide its new fire insurance policy among 12 local agents rather than 13 as originally planned.

—:—

THE RESIGNATIONS of William Burlingame and Wilbur J. Horvath, both teachers at Westgate School, were accepted.

The board also approved the use of three buildings for events to be sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

It approved the rental of a classroom at Westgate for 5 consecutive Tuesdays starting May 19 for a series of lectures on investments. The rental fee was set at $40.

Jaycees also were authorized the use of Patterson Field or Westgate auditorium on Easter Sunday for a sunrise prayer service. Custodial fees only will be charged at Patterson Field and a fee of $20 was set if the auditorium has to be used.

—:—

IT ALSO granted the organization permission to use Memorial Auditorium on Friday, May 13, for the after-prom party with no fee to be charged.

The Lincoln Home and School Association was granted use of Westgate auditorium on April 20 for a harp concert by Mrs. Jean Eason Herrington. Custodial fees only will be charged.

Betts reminded members the Northeastern Ohio School Boards Association will meet April 22 at Kent State University.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, reported a balance of $85,621.87 in school funds, including $45,634.39 in the general fund. She was authorized to transfer $2,153 from the general fund to the national defense account to balance out the fund.

—:—

A LETTER also was received from the East Liverpool Teachers Association thanking the board for a salary increase granted in February and pledging financial and personal help in the campaign for the 3 levies that will be on the ballot at the May 3 primaries.

Council Orders Inquiry

Pupils' Hazard Seen At Crossing

Council asked its street committee Monday night to check on a reported safety hazard to school children crossing the intersection of Webber Way and Jefferson St.

The investigation was requested after M. J. Sweeney of E. 3rd St. told Council the wide intersection is a hazard to youngsters who attend both Westgate School and St. Aloysius Parochial School.

Although there are traffic lights at the intersection "some motorists won't stop for children" and some of the youngsters cross the wide intersection diagonally from the southeast corner of W. 8th St. and Jefferson St. to the northwest corner of Webber Way, Sweeney said.

SWEENEY SAID children might cross the intersection in a more uniform pattern if the pavement was marked off with crosswalks. Or a crossing guard might be stationed at the intersection at the times when the rush to and from classes is heavy, he added.

Council asked its committee to confer with Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver in the investigation.

"We're all interested in the safety of our children," Councilman John Melvin commented when he made the motion for the investigation. Councilman Clinton R. Seevers suggested the committee might confer with officials of the two schools as part of its investigation "to find if the children can be routed some other way."

—:—

THE STREET COMMITEE also was asked to investigate the recurrence of a long-standing parking problem for W. 8th St. residents, who are not permitted to park in front of their homes along the four-lane "super-road" stretch through West End.

Councilman Robert Laughlin asked the investigation. As one factor, he said the Board of Education has forbidden motorists to continue to park in an offset near the entrance to Patterson Field.

Seevers said the problem also involves the right of W. 8th St. residents to park on sections of old Gaston Ave. As part of the additional parking space provided for the West End area after the "super-road" was built, arrangements were made to provide for parking on Gaston Ave., he said.

Gaston Ave. was relocated at the time of the road project and an agreement was worked out for parking on ground formerly used for street purposes, he explained.

—:—

"THAT'S AN old complaint that goes back four years," Seevers said. "We had it straightened out once so the people would have a place to park. I hope we can straighten it out once and for all."

Dog Warden Robert J. Croyle, reporting to Council personally, said he answered at least 150 calls in March, his first month on the new part-time job. He said 16 dogs were destroyed with a painless drug injection, 12 more placed in new homes and $8 in pound fees was collected. Fifteen dogs were killed by autos during the month, Croyle reported.

Croyle reiterated that dog owners should place licenses on their pets' collars, "not keep them in a drawer at home." When a dog is lost or strayed, the owner can be located within a few minutes through the license number, Croyle said. He said he is holding 8 dogs at the pound, unable to locate the owners because the pets do not have licenses on their collars.

CROYLE SAID he receives many requests to find new homes for unwanted dogs. But the dog owners themselves can find new homes for their pets through newspaper classified advertisements, Croyle said. One newspaper notice about a dog placed for adoption received 100 responses, Croyle said.

The warden said some families have the misconception that they need not purchase licenses for dogs that are kept in the house or confined on the premises. Regardless of the circumstances, any dog over 3 months old is required to be licensed, he said. But the fact a dog is licensed does not allow it to run at large, he cautioned.

The claims committee was given two bills against the city.

Claude Ruckman, 1426 Pennsylvania Ave., asked $20 for tire he said blew out March 13 when he hit a street chuckhole on Pleasant Heights. Mrs. Charlotte Plunkett, 432 W. Drury Ln., filed a bill for $74.50. She said she called a plumber to unstop the sewer line at her home, but he discovered the fault was in the city's main sewer.

—:—

PRESIDENT Charles N. Edwards advised Council in caucus session that the city employes' union has asked enactment of legislation authorizing the auditor's office to make payroll deductions of union dues when authority for the check-off has been signed by the employe.

The request was filed by E. B. Laughlin of Local 667, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, who pointed out the State Legislature recently authorized check-off of dutes for public employes, Edwards said.

As the meeting opened, Council stood in silence for a moment out of respect to former Mayor Arnold W. Devon, who died Saturday. The invocation was given by Maj. William Hathorn of the Salvation Army.

Career Conferences Open After Address By Akronite

Discussions in 12 fields were held this morning as the annual Vocational Clinic at East Liverpool High School got under way.

A total of 411 students registered to hear discussions of opportunities in the careers of elementary education, secondary education, law, flower growing and merchandising, electrical service and maintenance, insurance, photography, civil service, dentistry, retail selling, radio work and dental hygiene.

The clinic opened with a general assembly Monday afternoon at which the keynote speaker, Willis H. Edmund, executive consultant of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., urged the students to decide early on their careers so their studies, hobbies and life itself can be steps toward the ultimate goal.

"This assembly today is opening the door in an attempt to give you an opportunity to get on the right road early," Edmund told the students. Pointing out a road map is not an absolute necessity, he remarked that by using a map and reading it correctly "you can arrive at your destination much quicker and in a better mood."

"If you think you have made up your mind, it's always good policy to take a second and third look. Probably the most important decision you will ever make is the selection of your life's work.

"The difference between the right and wrong decision is often the difference between success and failure, between happiness and discontent. There are millions of people who are not living a full life because they hate the work they have to do each day to earn a living.

"How can you know what you want to be doing 20-25 years from now? There are indications — road signs — which can point the way to your future career if you know how to read them," Edmund said.

He urged the students to examine themselves critically to determine what type of person they are, whether they like to work with their hands, if they have artistic interests and whether they prefer to work with people or alone.

"Chances are the things you like doing are the things you do best!"

The next step is to examine the school record to determine which courses they like best and least and to learn the interpretations of general ability tests and personality tests.

Most students will find their talents and interests center in some specific field. After determining the general group, they can then decide what particular segment of the field they like, Edmund suggested.

Then, he said, comes the problem of deciding the educational requirements to see what training is needed and where it may be secured.

"The conference periods may answer your questions. You will either feel pretty sure you are on the right road — or you may decide on another field. Don't be discouraged if you decide on another career — now's the time to be sure," he cautioned.

"The well educated person does not get it all from books and classrooms. A diploma may help you get a job, but it will take a lot more than that for you to keep the job and progress.

"Patience and teamwork are the beacon lights in the overall picture," Edmund said. "The final guidepost is faith: faith in yourself, your family, your friends, faith in what built our country and what can keep it strong and faith in the one bigger than all of us, and without whom we are nothing," Edmund concluded.

The speaker was introduced by Bruce Jones, president of the Student Council.

The discussions will continue through Friday with 14 conferences Wednesday, 11 on Thursday and 9 on Friday.

State Orders Another Built

Lincoln School Needs Fire Escape

The Board of Education learned officially Monday night it must construct another fire escape at Lincoln School and expand one erected last year to take in a third classroom.

Supt. Ralph W. Betts said state building officials have ordered installation of the fire escape on the west side of the structure. It will provide an exit for three classrooms on the second floor.

—:—

IN ADDITION, the fire escape erected last summer on the east side must be lengthened and a doorway cut to provide an exit for pupils in a third classroom.

Responding to questions from board members, the superintendent said state building officials approved the plans for the fire escape before the installation was started.

At that time, the plans covered only two classrooms, he explained. Because of a change in official thinking, the exit for the third classroom must be provided.

Robert F. Beatty, East Liverpool architect, who drew up the plans for the original fire escape, will be retained to prepare plans for the new fire escape, the board decided.

The board also adopted a policy to allow each building to decide whether individual pictures of each student shall be in color or black and white.

—:—

IT FIXED the maximum prices at $2.95 for a set of color pictures and $2 for black and white, an increase of 50 cents over the previous maximum.

A decision on the use of school buildings when no Board of Education representative is present was tabled for further study. Supt. Betts reported he had received a request from a parent - teacher group requesting the use of a building for weekly Boy Scout meetings.

A resolution granting a year's leave of absence to Austen Moore, high school driving instructor, for further professional study, was amended to specify the section of the state code under which it was granted.

—:—

THE STATE code section should be specified so there can be no question concerning partial payment of salary or retirement payments, the superintendent told the board.

Moore has withdrawn his original request to be paid the difference in his salary and that of his successor, Betts said.

The board also conferred informally with George Bloomgren, city engineer, on plans for the W. 8th St. interchange of the proposed city expressway from the city limits in California Hollow to W. 3rd and Monroe Sts.

It also decided to write the State Highway Department requesting a fence and sidewalk on the west side of the south ramp from the sidewalk in front of Westgate School to the W. 7th St. underpass to prevent children from reaching the highway.

Board members suggested copies be sent to Bloomgren, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and City Council.

In another decision, the board decided to divide its new fire insurance policy among 12 local agents rather than 13 as originally planned.

—:—

THE RESIGNATIONS of William Burlingame and Wilbur J. Horvath, both teachers at Westgate School, were accepted.

The board also approved the use of three buildings for events to be sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

It approved the rental of a classroom at Westgate for 5 consecutive Tuesdays starting May 19 for a series of lectures on investments. The rental fee was set at $40.

Jaycees also were authorized the use of Patterson Field or Westgate auditorium on Easter Sunday for a sunrise prayer service. Custodial fees only will be charged at Patterson Field and a fee of $20 was set if the auditorium has to be used.

—:—

IT ALSO granted the organization permission to use Memorial Auditorium on Friday, May 13, for the after-prom party with no fee to be charged.

The Lincoln Home and School Association was granted use of Westgate auditorium on April 20 for a harp concert by Mrs. Jean Eason Herrington. Custodial fees only will be charged.

Betts reminded members the Northeastern Ohio School Boards Association will meet April 22 at Kent State University.

Miss Kathryn Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, reported a balance of $85,621.87 in school funds, including $45,634.39 in the general fund. She was authorized to transfer $2,153 from the general fund to the national defense account to balance out the fund.

—:—

A LETTER also was received from the East Liverpool Teachers Association thanking the board for a salary increase granted in February and pledging financial and personal help in the campaign for the 3 levies that will be on the ballot at the May 3 primaries.

Road Grant Approved

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners have authorized a grant of $300 to Center Township trustees for road maintenance. Trustees told the commissioners their road fund was depleted.

County Scouter Gets Training Scholarship

LISBON — Raymond J. Dyke of Negley R. D. 1 has received a golden anniversary Philmont Training Scholarship in recognition of outstanding service in the Boy Scouts. The award was made by the National Council on recommendation of the Columbiana council, according to Bennett D. Taylor, district executive.

The scholarship entitles him to participate in the scouting conference to be held July 13-18 at Cimarron, N.M., and covers the conference fees for himself and his wife. The training session is operated on a family basis and he may include his children if he desires.

Dyke is scoutmaster of Troop 44 in East Palestine. The scholarship is made possible by Sear's Scholarship Fund.

Yellow Creek Grange To Hold Booster Night

The Yellow Creek Grange will observe "Booster Night" Thursday at 8 with a jamboree in the hall in Yellow Creek Township.

Ben (Skip) Hipsley Jr. will preside as master of ceremonies for a program of vocal and instrumental selections presented by Archie Hearn, Dale Scott, Mrs. George Whitaker, Mrs. Wilda Shafer, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Weese, Don Rudy, Mike Boyd and the B. J. Trio, Elmer Crook, Jim White and Hipsley.

LIBRARY GETS 'TRAFFIC SIGNALS.' There aren't any blinking lights or yellow lines but customers visiting the Carnegie Public Library are receiving speedier service with the installation of an extra checking desk. The clerk on the right, Mrs. Marie Hocking, serves customers returning books while Miss Janice Brookman on the left handles readers checking out books. Before the "in" and "out" signs were installed, library traffic sometimes became jammed at one desk during rush hours. Miss Frances Jones, librarian, explains the new system was necessary because of the 50 per cent increase in circulation in the last 4 years. The library circulated 16,000 more books in 1959 than in 1958. Readers visiting the library during National Library Week which opened Sunday become acquainted with the new service.

Harp Concert Scheduled As PTA's Benefit

A special harp concert will be presented at Westgate School auditorium April 20 by Jean Eason Harriman of Columbus, former city resident and well known area musician, sponsored by the Lincoln School Parent-Teacher Association.

She also is instructor at Ohio State University and Capitol University at Columbus.

A 1941 graduate of East Liverpool High School, Mrs. Harriman received a bachelor of music degree from Oberlin Conservatory and a master of arts degree from Ohio State. She studied advanced harp with Carlos Solzedo and Alice Chalifeux.

She also toured the deep south as soloist for two years, headed the harp department at Mississippi College at Hattiesburg, and has done guest appearances on television and performed solo work throughout the state.

Her husband, Glenn Harriman, also is a musician, teaching at Columbus and playing with various orchestras. They have three sons.

The concert will begin at 8:15 and will include vocal selections by Tommy Schneidmiller of Chester. Proceeds from the concert will be used for PTA projects.

Mrs. Harry Martin is chairman of the committee in charge, which includes Mrs. William Hocking, Mrs. Ray Diddle and Mrs. Allen Emmerling.

Rev. Hunton also reported on the speakers for the Good Friday service of 3 hours — from 12 noon to 3 p. m. — at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Ministers from East End churches will hold a similar Good Friday service at the Boyce Methodist Church.

The Rev. C. Howard Canon, pastor of the Oakland Free Methodist Church and president of the association, introduced Paul Pugh, manager of WOHI, who spoke on "New Developments of the Programming of the Local Station."

Road Grant Approved

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners have authorized a grant of $300 to Center Township trustees for road maintenance. Trustees told the commissioners their road fund was depleted.

County Scouter Gets Training Scholarship

LISBON — Raymond J. Dyke of Negley R. D. 1 has received a golden anniversary Philmont Training Scholarship in recognition of outstanding service in the Boy Scouts. The award was made by the National Council on recommendation of the Columbiana council, according to Bennett D. Taylor, district executive.

The scholarship entitles him to participate in the scouting conference to be held July 12-18 at Cimarron, N.M., and covers the conference fees for himself and his wife. The training session is operated on a family basis and he may include his children if he desires.

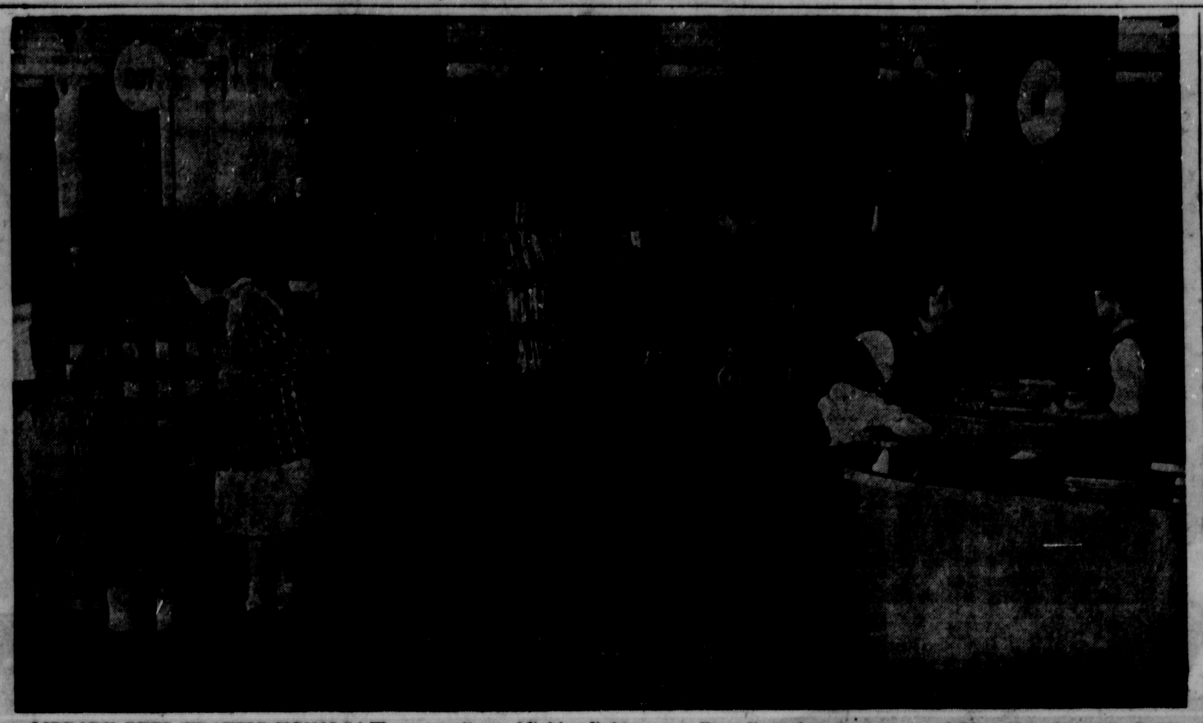
Dyke is scoutmaster of Troop 44 in East Palestine. The scholarship is made possible by Sear's Scholarship Fund.

Yellow Creek Grange To Hold Booster Night

The Yellow Creek Grange will observe "Booster Night" Thursday at 8 with a jamboree in the hall in Yellow Creek Township.

Ben (Skip) Hipsley Jr. will preside as master of ceremonies for a program of vocal and instrumental selections presented by Archie Hearn, Dale Scott, Mrs. George Whitaker, Mrs. Wilda Shafer, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Weese, Don Rudy, Mike Boyd and the B. J. Trio, Elmer Crook, Jim White and Hipsley.

Lawrence Mick, master, will preside and the program will be directed by Mrs. Loretta Hawksworth, lecturer. Lunch will be served by a committee, Mrs. Martha Beidler, Mrs. Kathryn Roberts and Mrs. Velma Hearn.



LIBRARY GETS 'TRAFFIC SIGNALS.' There aren't any blinking lights or yellow lines but customers visiting the Carnegie Public Library are receiving speedier service with the installation of an extra checking desk. The clerk on the right, Mrs. Marie Hocking, serves customers returning books while Miss Janice Brookman on the left handles readers checking out books. Before the "in" and "out" signs were installed, library traffic sometimes became jammed at one desk during rush hours. Miss Frances Jones, librarian, explains the new system was necessary because of the 50 per cent increase in circulation in the last 4 years. The library circulated 16,000 more books in 1959 than in 1958. Readers visiting the library during National Library Week which opened Sunday become acquainted with the new service.

Harp Concert Scheduled As PTA's Benefit

A special harp concert will be presented at Westgate School auditorium April 20 by Jean Eason Harriman of Columbus, former city resident and well known area musician, sponsored by the Lincoln School Parent-Teacher Association.

Daughter of Mrs. Mary Eason of East Liverpool and the late W. W. Eason, she has been first harpist with the Columbus Symphony and the Springfield Symphony for nine years, and with the Wheeling Symphony for seven years.

She also is instructor at Ohio State University and Capitol University at Columbus.

A 1941 graduate of East Liverpool High School, Mrs. Harriman received a bachelor of music degree from Oberlin Conservatory and a master of arts degree from Ohio State. She studied advanced harp with Carlos Solzedo and Alice Chalifeux.

She also toured the deep south as soloist for two years, headed the harp department at Mississippi College at Hattiesburg, and has done guest appearances on television and performed solo work throughout the state.

Her husband, Glenn Harriman, also is a musician, teaching at Columbus and playing with various orchestras. They have three sons.

The concert will begin at 8:15 and will include vocal selections by Tommy Schneidmiller of Chester. Proceeds from the concert will be used for PTA projects.

Mrs. Harry Martin is chairman of the committee in charge, which includes Mrs. William Hocking, Mrs. Ray Diddle and Mrs. Allen Emmerling.

Rev. Hunton also reported on the speakers for the Good Friday service of 3 hours — from 12 noon to 3 p. m. — at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

Ministers from East End churches will hold a similar Good Friday service at the Boyce Methodist Church.

The Rev. C. Howard Canon, pastor of the Oakland Free Methodist Church and president of the association, introduced Paul Pugh, manager of WOHI, who spoke on "New Developments of the Programming of the Local Station."

5 Games Open Junior Tourney Action Tonight At M-A

Midland Varsity Is Favored Team

Ten of 13 teams, comprising one of the greatest collections of area all-star players in years, will see action tonight in the opening round of the Junior Basketball Tournament.

The 13th annual tourney, sponsored by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club, will continue Wednesday and Friday nights at Memorial Auditorium.

Here's Tonight's Slate For Junior Tournament

7—Russell's Dairy (Wellsville) vs. Welsh's Barber Shop (Sharon).
7:20—Brownson House (Washington, Pa.) vs. Eason Insurance (Swissvale).
8:15 — Gengarellas (Midland) vs. Robert Drugs (Bridgeport).
8:35 — Travelers Hotel (East Liverpool; vs. DeMolays (East Liverpool).
9:30 — United Steelworkers (Beaver Falls) vs. Marland Heights Drugs (Weirton).

Eason Insurance of East Liverpool opens defense of its championship in one of the five games scheduled tonight.

Action gets underway at 7 with Russell's Dairy of Wellsville opposing Welsh's Barbershop of East Liverpool. The dairymen list Wellsville High's great center, Franklin Jackson, and other Tiger varsity performers. Sharon High standouts are on the roster of the city barbershop entry.

The second game at 7:20 pits Brownson House of Washington, Pa., against defending champion Eason Insurance (Swissvale High School.) The champs list Swissvale ace Jack Byrnes.

The third game at 8:15 finds one of the tournament favorites—Gengarellas of Midland — battling Roberts Drugs of Bridgeport. Gengarellas list the Midland High varsity in addition to clever Cal Sheffield of New Brighton and pint-sized Nick Vuckovich, a star last season. The Bridgeport entry is headed by all-state honorable mention Phil Musgrave of Steubenville Big Red and All-Eastern Ohio Bob Patton of Martins Ferry.

The co-favorite with Gengarellas, Travelers Hotel, will appear in the fourth game at 8:35 against DeMolays of East Liverpool. The hotel squad is dotted by "name" stars in Salem's all-state guard Dave Hunter, Ray Bigelow, 6-5 center of East Liverpool, and Farrell's Bryan Generalovich, "player of the year" with a teammate in WPIAL.

Tonight's finale at 9:30 pits United Steelworkers of Beaver Falls High School against Marland Heights Drugs of Weirton. The steelmen are coached by Larry Bruno and Bill Ross. Marland Heights, champion in 1958, has little Dick Palcic, 5-8, of Weirton Madonna, and a towering teammate, Ed Tarowsky, 6-5. Palcic was an All-West Virginia Catholic squad selection. Follansbee and Wellsburg stars also are listed.

Games will be "sandwiched" until the championship finals Friday.

Waiting in the wings for appearances Wednesday night are three powerhouses. They are American Vitrified Products (Canton Timken High School), Harsh Billiards (Minerva High School) and Jones Market (Mansfield High School.)

Vitrified appears the stronger of the three with all-Ohio first team choice John Namciu. Timken won 24 of 25 games the past season. Minerva won the 1960 Tri-County League crown and will bring the league's leading scorer, Ron Hardgrove.

After tonight's action, eight teams from the field will still be around to battle Wednesday night. The semi-finals and finals Friday will both be regulation style games.

Admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. On Friday night, $1 for adults and 35 cents for students will be charged.

Throneberry Groomed For Sievers' Spot

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Washington's fearsome four - some minus one, shopping around for a new partner to aid in the war against organized pitching, today began checking the credentials of Faye Maynard Throneberry.

Throneberry continued his torrid hitting along major league baseball's exhibition trail Monday, driving in the winning run with a seventh inning single as the Senators edged Kansas City 3-2 in the only game played.

With slugger Roy Sievers traded to Chicago's White Sox for catcher Earl Battey, first baseman Don Mincher and $150,000, Throneberry may be just the man to fill the depleted ranks.

A 28-year-old Tennessean who has kicked around the American League since he came up with Boston in 1952, Throneberry crashed the Washington lineup last season and compiled a .251 batting average in 117 games. The outfielder-first baseman hit 10 home runs and accounted for 42 runs batted in.

Now he's the sensation of the Senators' training camp with his .462 batting average, and has been outshining the fearsome foursomes' holdovers — Harmon Killebrew, Jim Lemon and Bob Allison.

Killebrew (42), Lemon (33), Allison (30) and Sievers (21) slugged 126 home runs during the 1959 campaign and a little more power from Throneberry could make up for the departure of the aging Sievers.

While Throneberry drove home the clincher against the A's, Killebrew and Lemon started the Senators on their way to their seventh victory in 20 games by driving home two runs in the first inning with sacrifice flies.

The A's tied it in the second when Bob Cerv homered—his fourth of the spring—with a man on. Then, in the seventh, Lennie Green singled, advanced on a ground out and came around on Throneberry's clutch hit.

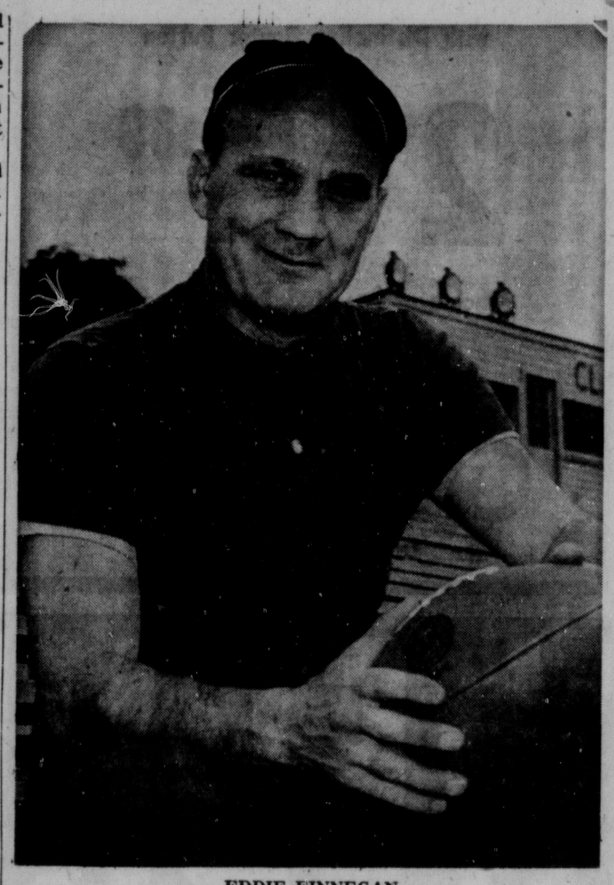
Banquet Set Monday

Eddie Finnegan To Speak At ELHS Basketball Fete

Eddie Finnegan, head football coach and athletic director at Western Reserve University, will be guest speaker when the East Liverpool High School basketball team is honored Monday at a banquet in the First Christian Church.

The event is being co-sponsored by the Kiwanis Club and the East Liverpool High School Athletic Association.



EDDIE FINNEGAN
Will Return Here For Banquet.

Finnegan, who spoke here in 1952, has been coaching for 26 years and guided the 1958 Western Reserve football team to the Presidents' Athletic Conference championship.

As head football coach since 1951, Finnegan has been at the helm longer than any other man in the school's 67-year football history.

A native of Cleveland, where he was born May 10, 1911, he was graduated from John Adams High School, attaining an all-scholastic rating in football and basketball.

At Reserve, as a regular on the football, basketball and track teams, he set a varsity record by winning nine letters. In addition, Finnigan won All-American honors in basketball and football. In 1933, national sports columnist Chuck Taylor named him guard on the nation's top basketball five, which included Ed "Moose" Krause of Notre Dame.

Finnigan majored in British and American drama at Western Reserve, receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1933. He was awarded the Warion Trophy presented annually to the university's outstanding undergraduate senior male student. In 1937, he earned his master's degree in physical education from Ohio State University.

Upon graduate from Western Reserve, Finnigan was appointed backfield coach and head track coach at Baldwin-Wallace College.

During his 18 years at the Berea school, he gained recognition for his work in developing outstanding track teams. For six consecutive years (1945-50), his teams won the All-Ohio title.

Harrison Dillard, record-breaking Olympic dash and hurdle champion, was Finnigan's prize pupil.

When Ray Watts retired at B-W in 1949, Finnigan became head football coach, a post he held until returning to his alma mater in 1951.

His 1949 and 1950 B-W teams compiled an 11-4-1 record and were ranked 1-2 nationally for small colleges in forward pass offense. Norb Hecker, newly-named end coach for the Green Bay Packers and former Washington Redskins star end, was principal receiver from passer Tommy Phillips to establish these marks.

Since 1951, five of eight Red Cat teams have come through with winning records under the expert guidance of Finnigan.

Since the founding of the Presidents' Athletic Conference in 1955, two Reserve elevens have captured the championship. The 1955 squad recorded the best won-loss mark (5-1-1) of any WRU team since 1941. The 1958 team was undefeated in the conference with four straight victories.

George Hargraves, high school principal, will be master of ceremonies. Jud English is chairman of the Kiwanis Club committee.

Another feature of the banquet will be the presentation of the Hi-Y Memorial Award to an outstanding senior member of the team.

Ralph Musuraca, president of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club, will present an award to the best foul shot on the reserve and varsity teams.

Invocation will be given by the Rev. John Mostoller.

Tickets may be purchased from Kiwanis Club members.

Curbstone Coaches To Honor Tiger Cagers

Wellsville High's sectional runners-up basketball squad will be honored by the Curbstone Coaches Assn. at a banquet Saturday night at 7:30 in the American Legion Post 70 home.

Speaker will be Coach Henry Healey who piloted Paden City High School to the 1960 Class A championship of West Virginia. Healey was a classmate at West Liberty State College with George Lawton, Wellsville football coach. Both varsity and reserve squads will be honored at the turkey dinner.

Giants Are Picked In National Loop

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A pennant should fly over San Francisco's new Candlestick Park next October because of key moves the Giants made during the off season to bolster their pitching and tighten their infield.

The addition of Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes, a southpaw starter and a right-handed relief man, plus the acquisition of second baseman Don Blasingame figure to give the Giants what they lacked last year when they blew the pennant in the last 10 days.

Billy Rigney's five-man staff ran out of gas in the stretch with Sam Jones trying to start and relieve. The hitters stopped hitting. The club lost seven of its last eight, including a vital three-game series with Los Angeles. Instead of worrying about the problems of playing a World Series in a ball park that was not completed, they settled for third place while Los Angeles and Milwaukee tangled in a pennant playoff.

Milwaukee is given the best chance of beating the Giants in this book with the Dodgers making it a three-way fight. Powerful Cincinnati with added pitching from Cal McLish and Bill Henry has an outside shot at the flag.

Pittsburgh, hoping for a solid comeback by Bob Friend, figures to fight it out with St. Louis for fifth, if Stan Musial can hold his spring training form for 100 games. Chicago's young pitching must continue to improve and Richie Ashburn and Frank Thomas must bounce back from bad years if the Cubs are to improve. The Phillies appear headed for another term in the National League cellar despite a generous injection of new blood.

Here's the way it looks from here:

1. San Francisco
2. Milwaukee
3. Los Angeles
4. Cincinnati
5. Pittsburgh
6. St. Louis
7. Chicago
8. Philadelphia

Bond, De La Hoz Need Seasoning, Gordon Says

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Manager Joe Gordon has about come to the conclusion that big Walt Bond and Mike De La Hoz need another year of experience before the Cleveland Indians can use them.

Here's how the Flash summed it up for an interviewer, regarding Bond, an outfielder who has been a spring training hitting sensation, and De La Hoz, a 21-year-oid shortstop who also can play second or third.

Bond: "He's a great prospect, but I'm afraid we have to be more realistic. He's hit real well down here, but will he hit as well when the bell rings? And will he field? . . . Frankly, I think he might hurt us in center field. He can shag a fly ball, but he's having trouble with ground balls. He's so darn tall and has too far to bend over. . . ."

De La Hoz: "I'd rather see him out playing somewhere than sitting on the bench. Mike is going to be a good one. I think he can hit between .280 and .300 in the big leagues and hit with power. I'm not sure he won't hit better than Bubba Phillips right now. If we send him out, though, we can always bring him back when we need him."

Gordon's worried not a bit that his Indians have won only seven of 20 exhibition games for the worst record in the Cactus League. He said he felt that it was more important than winning "to take a look at Bond, De La Hoz, Jankowski and the kid pitchers."

"That's what spring training is for, isn't it?" he asked.

Gordon said he felt the club was "much better than we were at this time last year."

Heavy Course Faces Entries In Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Drenching rains have turned the 24th Masters golf tournament, starting Thursday, into a prospective battle of muscle men and one of the most eminent of these, Sam Snead, says it could be his year.

"The way I'm playing, I just might do it," drawled the three-time winner from West Virginia today. "I don't know when I've hit the ball better.

"I'll tell you one thing — as heavy as this course is, no short knocker is going to win it."

One of the game's strongest players, Arnold Palmer, has been established as the advance favorite. Most of his competition is expected to come from such powerful hitters as Snead, Cary Middlecoff, ex-footballer Mike Souchak and perhaps even the husky U.S. Amateur champion, Jackie Nicklaus.

Nicklaus, a blond, 200-pound package of power from Columbus, Ohio, trudged around the Augusta National Course in a driving rain Monday in 69, three under par. It was the best score of those rash enough to buck the elements.

Robbie May Open Season At First Base For Reds

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Baseball fans may be treated to real fireworks if the Cincinnati Reds put Frankie Robinson on first base again this season.

Then again, Frank may be veteran enough now to take it in relatively good graces.

At any rate, Manager Fred Hutchinson said Monday:

"If Robby plays first base, and that's what it looks like now, there is a good chance that the kid (rookie Tony Gonzalez) will be my rightfielder opening day."

Robinson has picked up some painful knots in his throwing arm, and that's one reason to keep him out of the right field post he wants.

Robby came to spring training saying, "Nope, I will not play first. I brought four finger gloves with me to the training camp. No first baseman's mitt."

Hutch and General Manager Gabe Paul tried to oblige Robby. They tried rookie Gordie Coleman at first base, but he got what looked like buck fever, didn't hit as well as expected and was sent to the minors for more seasoning.

Then they tried Lee Walls, an outfielder, at first. He hit well, but showed no conspicious defensive talent at first.

Paul also tried to hustle up a trade with another club but turned up no worthwhile offers.

Hutch is still experimenting. But it looks like Robinson, unhappy or otherwise, at first on opening day.

And the chances are also that Robby, a superlative natural athlete, will fill the job with skill and credit as he did last year, whatever his private ideas about it.

Sievers' Power Should Give Sox Lift At Plate

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox are still trading away youth and promise for experienced ball players in an effort to win a second straight American League pennant.

The White Sox Monday peddled catcher Earl Battey and first baseman Don Mincher plus $150,000 for Roy Sievers, slugging outfielder-first baseman whom they have sought for years from Washington.

It was the third major deal since winning the pennant last fall in which the Sox have traded away promising youngsters for proven sluggers.

President Bill Veeck, having reached the top, is determined to keep the club there and he has been adding power to the attack without hurting the team's front line pitching and defense.

Aside from Battey, 24, and Mincher, 22, the Sox have traded away the likes of Johnny Callison, 21; Ron Jackson, 26; Norm Cash, 25, and Johnny Romano, 25.

Callison went to Philadelphia for third baseman Gene Freese, 26. Jackson was peddled to Boston for southpaw pitcher Frank Baumann, 26. Cash, Romano and Bubba Phillips, 30, went to Cleveland for Minnie Minoso who is anywhere from 37 to 40—nobody knows for sure, probably not even Minnie.

Freese will play third base, Minoso left field. But the 33-year-old Sievers is a question mark. Manager Al Lopez has indicated Sievers will be used as a pinch batter and insurance for first baseman Ted Kluzewski and Minoso.

Cousy May Bench Self In Tonight's NBA Series Game

BOSTON (AP) — Bob Cousy, Boston's Mr. Basketball, may bench himself tonight if he doesn't snap out of the doldrums in the fifth game of the Celtics' National Basketball Assn. playoff with St. Louis.

"If things don't come back, I'm going to step out and have K.C. Jones or Sam Jones do the job," Cousy said. "I still want one more try. But I can't ruin this playoff for the boys by staying out there if I don't have it."

Cousy has been having one of the worst series of his 10-year career in the best-of-seven playoff, now tied at 2 games each.

He started off hitting 10 of 23 shots from the floor in the first game, in which Boston marked up a record victory. Since then, he has been far off his form, and the Celtics won only one of three. In those three games he has been good on only six of 45 shots from the floor.

But it is as a playmaker, a clutch player and team leader that Cousy has made his mark. Even these characteristics have been missing in the last three games.

Need Help From Weatherman

Potter Thinclads Slated For Opener On Wednesday

A helping hand from the weatherman is needed if the East Liverpool track team is to open its 1960 season Wednesday.

The Potters are scheduled to face Struthers in a dual meet at Patterson Field, beginning at 4:15.

Coach Bob Hedmond's 1960 edition is a young squad, with only five seniors. Twenty-two juniors and 29 sophomores reported when the first call was issued.

Hedmond, in his third year at ELHS, has a string of seven straight victories in dual meets. Hedmond's team has never lost such a meet.

However, the Potter coach terms this season "a rebuilding year." "We only have four lettermen back and the squad is young."

The lettermen include Bob Mackall, who took part successfully last year in the sprint events. He will be Hedmond's No. 1 dash man in the 100 and 220. Other veterans are Joe Thompson, Bob Christian and Herb Yager.

Other sprinters include Harry Judy, Jerry Bell, Allen Douglas and Jim Richardson. Joe Thompson may run the sprints or be used in the 440, Hedmond added.

Quarter-mile prospects are headed by Dave Betteridge, who showed a lot of promise last season. Others who will be entered in the event are Craig O'Neil, Larry Crook and Bill Flannigan.

The distance men are strong in numbers, but Hedmond will have a tough time replacing Warren Lincoln, who cracked school records in the mile and half - mile last season. Lincoln is attending Ohio State University.

Battling for a spot in the distance events are Mike Como, who looked impressive in his first workout last week, Jim Pillar, Ray Golding, Lester Abrams, Clyde Griffith and Bill Brokaw.

Two of Hedmond's lettermen, Christian and Yager, will be in the hurdle events, joined by Dave Couch.

Turning to the field events, Mackall, Christian, Douglas, Richardson and Bell are being considered as broad jumpers.

Ray Goodman and Dave Lampman have the inside track in the high jump, while Jim Sparks and Allen Douglas have been working out in the pole vault.

Vieing for spots in the shot and discus are Yager, Gary Montgomery, Joe Smith and Lampman.

The 880 relay team will be made up from the sprinters, while the mile relay squad will be picked from the list of quarter-milers.

All four dual meets on the Potter schedule are slated for Patterson Field. The next will be with Midland on April 12.

95 Hopefuls Report For OSU Grid Drills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Spring is in the air and so are the footballs at Ohio State University.

Some 95 gridiron hopefuls turned out Monday for the first day of spring practice—33 returnees from last year's team and the rest freshmen.

Coach Woody Hayes had his charges concentrate on passing, with Tom Matte of Cleveland the quarterback. Matte is now the No. 1 signal caller after alternating in that spot last year with Jerry Fields.

Bob Ferguson of Troy, last year's regular left halfback, was moved to fullback in the only major switch of the day. Taking over the halfback position was Ed Ulmer of Cleveland, the only freshman put on the first string so far.

EDDIE FINNEGAN
Will Return Here For Banquet.

Finnegan, who spoke here in 1952, has been coaching for 26 years and guided the 1958 Western Reserve football team to the Presidents' Athletic Conference championship.

As head football coach since 1951, Finnegan has been at the helm longer than any other man in the school's 67-year football history.

A native of Cleveland, where he was born May 10, 1911, he was graduated from John Adams High School, attaining an all-scholastic rating in football and basketball.

At Reserve, as a regular on the football, basketball and track teams, he set a varsity record by winning nine letters. In addition, Finnigan won All-American honors in basketball and football. In 1933, national sports columnist Chuck Taylor named him guard on the nation's top basketball five, which included Ed "Moose" Krause of Notre Dame.

Finnigan majored in British and American drama at Western Reserve, receiving his Bachelor of Arts degree in 1933. He was awarded the Warion Trophy presented annually to the university's outstanding undergraduate senior male student. In 1937, he earned his master's degree in physical education from Ohio State University.

Upon graduate from Western Reserve, Finnigan was appointed backfield coach and head track coach at Baldwin-Wallace College.

During his 18 years at the Berea school, he gained recognition for his work in developing outstanding track teams. For six consecutive years (1945-50), his teams won the All-Ohio title.

Harrison Dillard, record-breaking Olympic dash and hurdle champion, was Finnigan's prize pupil.

When Ray Watts retired at B-W in 1949, Finnigan became head football coach, a post he held until returning to his alma mater in 1951.

His 1949 and 1950 B-W teams compiled an 11-4-1 record and were ranked 1-2 nationally for small colleges in forward pass offense. Norb Hecker, newly-named end coach for the Green Bay Packers and former Washington Redskins star end, was principal receiver from passer Tommy Phillips to establish these marks.

Since 1951, five of eight Red Cat teams have come through with winning records under the expert guidance of Finnigan.

Since the founding of the Presidents' Athletic Conference in 1955, two Reserve elevens have captured the championship. The 1955 squad recorded the best won-loss mark (5-1-1) of any WRU team since 1941. The 1958 team was undefeated in the conference with four straight victories.

George Hargraves, high school principal, will be master of ceremonies. Jud English is chairman of the Kiwanis Club committee.

Another feature of the banquet will be the presentation of the Hi-Y Memorial Award to an outstanding senior member of the team.

Ralph Musuraca, president of the Blue and White Nonpareil Club, will present an award to the best foul shot on the reserve and varsity teams.

Invocation will be given by the Rev. John Mostoller.

Tickets may be purchased from Kiwanis Club members.

Curbstone Coaches To Honor Tiger Cagers

Wellsville High's sectional runners-up basketball squad will be honored by the Curbstone Coaches Assn. at a banquet Saturday night at 7:30 in the American Legion Post 70 home.

Speaker will be Coach Henry Healey who piloted Paden City High School to the 1960 Class A championship of West Virginia. Healey was a classmate at West Liberty State College with George Lawton, Wellsville football coach. Both varsity and reserve squads will be honored at the turkey dinner.

Giants Are Picked In National Loop

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A pennant should fly over San Francisco's new Candlestick Park next October because of key moves the Giants made during the off season to bolster their pitching and tighten their infield.

The addition of Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes, a southpaw starter and a right-handed relief man, plus the acquisition of second baseman Don Blasingame figure to give the Giants what they lacked last year when they blew the pennant in the last 10 days.

Billy Rigney's five-man staff ran out of gas in the stretch with Sam Jones trying to start and relieve. The hitters stopped hitting. The club lost seven of its last eight, including a vital three-game series with Los Angeles. Instead of worrying about the problems of playing a World Series in a ball park that was not completed, they settled for third place while Los Angeles and Milwaukee tangled in a pennant playoff.

Milwaukee is given the best chance of beating the Giants in this book with the Dodgers making it a three-way fight. Powerful Cincinnati with added pitching from Cal McLish and Bill Henry has an outside shot at the flag.

Pittsburgh, hoping for a solid comeback by Bob Friend, figures to fight it out with St. Louis for fifth, if Stan Musial can hold his spring training form for 100 games. Chicago's young pitching must continue to improve and Richie Ashburn and Frank Thomas must bounce back from bad years if the Cubs are to improve. The Phillies appear headed for another term in the National League cellar despite a generous injection of new blood.

Here's the way it looks from here:

1. San Francisco
2. Milwaukee
3. Los Angeles
4. Cincinnati
5. Pittsburgh
6. St. Louis
7. Chicago
8. Philadelphia

Bond, De La Hoz Need Seasoning, Gordon Says

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Manager Joe Gordon has about come to the conclusion that big Walt Bond and Mike De La Hoz need another year of experience before the Cleveland Indians can use them.

Here's how the Flash summed it up for an interviewer, regarding Bond, an outfielder who has been a spring training hitting sensation, and De La Hoz, a 21-year-old shortstop who also can play second or third.

Bond: "He's a great prospect, but I'm afraid we have to be more realistic. He's hit real well down here, but will he hit as well when the bell rings? And will he field? . . . Frankly, I think he might hurt us in center field. He can shag a fly ball, but he's having trouble with ground balls. He's so darn tall and has too far to bend over. . . ."

De La Hoz: "I'd rather see him out playing somewhere than sitting on the bench. Mike is going to be a good one. I think he can hit between .280 and .300 in the big leagues and hit with power. I'm not sure he won't hit better than Bubba Phillips right now. If we send him out, though, we can always bring him back when we need him."

Gordon's worried not a bit that his Indians have won only seven of 20 exhibition games for the worst record in the Cactus League. He said he felt that it was more important than winning "to take a look at Bond, De La Hoz, Jankowski and the kid pitchers."

"That's what spring training is for, isn't it?" he asked.

Gordon said he felt the club was "much better than we were at this time last year."

Heavy Course Faces Entries In Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Drenching rains have turned the 24th Masters golf tournament, starting Thursday, into a prospective battle of muscle men and one of the most eminent of these, Sam Snead, says it could be his year.

"The way I'm playing, I just might do it," drawled the three-time winner from West Virginia today. "I don't know when I've hit the ball better.

"I'll tell you one thing — as heavy as this course is, no short knocker is going to win it."

One of the game's strongest players, Arnold Palmer, has been established as the advance favorite. Most of his competition is expected to come from such powerful hitters as Snead, Cary Middlecoff, ex-footballer Mike Souchak and perhaps even the husky U.S. Amateur champion, Jackie Nicklaus.

Nicklaus, a blond, 200-pound package of power from Columbus, Ohio, trudged around the Augusta National Course in a driving rain Monday in 69, three under par. It was the best score of those rash enough to buck the elements.

Robbie May Open Season At First Base For Reds

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Baseball fans may be treated to real fireworks if the Cincinnati Reds put Frankie Robinson on first base again this season.

Then again, Frank may be veteran enough now to take it in relatively good graces.

At any rate, Manager Fred Hutchinson said Monday:

"If Robby plays first base, and that's what it looks like now, there is a good chance that the kid (rookie Tony Gonzalez) will be my rightfielder opening day."

Robinson has picked up some painful knots in his throwing arm, and that's one reason to keep him out of the right field post he wants.

Robby came to spring training saying, "Nope, I will not play first. I brought four finger gloves with me to the training camp. No first baseman's mitt."

Hutch and General Manager Gabe Paul tried to oblige Robby. They tried rookie Gordie Coleman at first base, but he got what looked like buck fever, didn't hit as well as expected and was sent to the minors for more seasoning.

Then they tried Lee Walls, an outfielder, at first. He hit well, but showed no conspicious defensive talent at first.

Paul also tried to hustle up a trade with another club but turned up no worthwhile offers.

Hutch is still experimenting. But it looks like Robinson, unhappy or otherwise, at first on opening day.

And the chances are also that Robby, a superlative natural athlete, will fill the job with skill and credit as he did last year, whatever his private ideas about it.

Chesko Wins First Shoot

Don Chesko of the Sunflower Club took first place in the AA Class with an 834 in the first shoot of the season sponsored by the Beaverkettle Bowmen Sunday.

Jin Onusha of WFB Club was second with an 808 and John Bevington of Beaverkettle was third with 706.

Winners in the A division were Bob Talbot of Beaverkettle, B. Smith and Joe Simmon of Sunflower, second and third respectively.

In the B Class, Curt Palmer of Beaverkettle took first, George Fletcher of Sunflower second and Roy McCollum of Beaverkettle third.

The Bowmen Class winners were G. Ward of Beaverkettle, J. Varshy of Sunflower and C. Heckathorn of Beaverkettle.

B. Clark took first in the men's archer division with H. Miller, second and C. Mays third. All are from Beaverkettle.

The Free style was won by J. McDonald of Sunflower.

In the women's A class, T. Simmons of Sunflower was first and Mary Adams of Sunflower second.

Ilene Simms of WFB won the women's A division, E. Maggs of TAC took the B honors, P. Stoll of B & H was first in the women's bowmen and H. Vaentino of Sunflower won the women's archer shoot.

The next shoot will be April 24 at the Fredericktown range.

Sievers' Power Should Give Sox Lift At Plate

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox are still trading away youth and promise for experienced ball players in an effort to win a second straight American League pennant.

The White Sox Monday peddled catcher Earl Battey and first baseman Don Mincher plus $150,000 for Roy Sievers, slugging outfielder-first baseman whom they have sought for years from Washington.

It was the third major deal since winning the pennant last fall in which the Sox have traded away promising youngsters for proven sluggers.

President Bill Veeck, having reached the top, is determined to keep the club there and he has been adding power to the attack without hurting the team's front line pitching and defense.

Aside from Battey, 24, and Mincher, 22, the Sox have traded away the likes of Johnny Callison, 21; Ron Jackson, 26; Norm Cash, 25, and Johnny Romano, 25.

Callison went to Philadelphia for third baseman Gene Freese, 26. Jackson was peddled to Boston for southpaw pitcher Frank Baumann, 26. Cash, Romano and Bubba Phillips, 30, went to Cleveland for Minnie Minoso who is anywhere from 37 to 40—nobody knows for sure, probably not even Minnie.

Freese will play third base, Minoso left field. But the 33-year-old Sievers is a question mark. Manager Al Lopez has indicated Sievers will be used as a pinch batter and insurance for first baseman Ted Kluszewski and Minoso.

Need Help From Weatherman

Potter Thinclads Slated For Opener On Wednesday

A helping hand from the weatherman is needed if the East Liverpool track team is to open its 1960 season Wednesday.

The Potters are scheduled to face Struthers in a dual meet at Patterson Field, beginning at 4:15.

Coach Bob Hedmond's 1960 edition is a young squad, with only five seniors. Twenty-two juniors and 29 sophomores reported when the first call was issued.

Hedmond, in his third year at ELHS, has a string of seven straight victories in dual meets. Hedmond's team has never lost such a meet.

However, the Potter coach terms this season "a rebuilding year." "We only have four lettermen back and the squad is young."

The lettermen include Bob Mackall, who took part successfully last year in the sprint events. He will be Hedmond's No. 1 dash man in the 100 and 220. Other veterans are Joe Thompson, Bob Christian and Herb Yager.

Other sprinters include Harry Judy, Jerry Bell, Allen Douglas and Jim Richardson. Joe Thompson may run the sprints or be used in the 440, Hedmond added.

Quarter-mile prospects are headed by Dave Betteridge, who showed a lot of promise last season. Others who will be entered in the event are Craig O'Neil, Larry Crook and Bill Flannigan.

The distance men are strong in numbers, but Hedmond will have a tough time replacing Warren Lincoln, who cracked school records in the mile and half - mile last season. Lincoln is attending Ohio State University.

Battling for a spot in the distance events are Mike Como, who looked impressive in his first workout last week, Jim Pillar, Ray Golding, Lester Abrams, Clyde Griffith and Bill Brokaw.

Two of Hedmond's lettermen, Christian and Yager, will be in the hurdle events, joined by Dave Couch.

Turning to the field events, Mackall, Christian, Douglas, Richardson and Bell are being considered as broad jumpers.

Ray Goodman and Dave Lampman have the inside track in the high jump, while Jim Sparks and Allen Douglas have been working out in the pole vault.

Vieing for spots in the shot and discus are Yager, Gary Montgomery, Joe Smith and Lampman.

The 880 relay team will be made up from the sprinters, while the mile relay squad will be picked from the list of quarter-milers.

All four dual meets on the Potter schedule are slated for Patterson Field. The next will be with Midland on April 12.

Named As Latin Coach

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sam Ruvolo, 30, Bedford Chanel High School football coach for two years, resigned Monday night to become head football coach of Cleveland Cathedral Latin.

Ruvolo, a Kent State University graduate who coached two seasons at Brecksville before going to Chanel has a three-season total of 13 victories against 14 losses.

Cousy May Bench Self In Tonight's NBA Series Game

BOSTON (AP) — Bob Cousy, Boston's Mr. Basketball, may bench himself tonight if he doesn't snap out of the doldrums in the fifth game of the Celtics' National Basketball Assn. playoff with St. Louis.

"If things don't come back, I'm going to step out and have K.C. Jones or Sam Jones do the job," Cousy said. "I still want one more try. But I can't ruin this playoff for the boys by staying out there if I don't have it."

Cousy has been having one of the worst series of his 10-year career in the best-of-seven playoff, now tied at 2 games each.

He started off hitting 10 of 23 shots from the floor in the first game, in which Boston marked up a record victory. Since then, he has been far off his form, and the Celtics won only one of three. In those three games he has been good on only six of 45 shots from the floor.

But it is as a playmaker, a clutch player and team leader that Cousy has made his mark. Even these characteristics have been missing in the last three games.

95 Hopefuls Report For OSU Grid Drills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Spring is in the air and so are the footballs at Ohio State University.

Some 95 gridiron hopefuls turned out Monday for the first day of spring practice—33 returnees from last year's team and the rest freshmen.

Coach Woody Hayes had his charges concentrate on passing, with Tom Matte of Cleveland the quarterback. Matte is now the No. 1 signal caller after alternating in that spot last year with Jerry Fields.

Bob Ferguson of Troy, last year's regular left halfback, was moved to fullback in the only major switch of the day. Taking over the halfback position was Ed Ulmer of Cleveland, the only freshman put on the first string so far.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is out of town on a job that keeps him away from home several months at a time. He is batching with a fellow worker I've never met.

When I wrote and asked if this man was married my husband replied that he didn't poke his nose into other people's business. He also made it plain the guy didn't ask him any questions either.

This got me to thinking. Since when is a man's family too personal a matter to bring up when you share an apartment together? I can't imagine a man who has a wife and four beautiful kids not mentioning them to his roommate —unless, of course, the two "boys" are living it up pretty good and passing themselves off as bachelors to each other and everybody else.

Maybe I've been alone too much and I'm getting half cuckoo. If this is the case please tell me. What do you say? — HIDDEN WIFE.

-:-

Dear Hidden: I'd say you've been alone too much—but you're far from cuckoo.

There's something pretty flaky about a husband who would fail to mention his family to a man with whom he's been sharing living quarters for several months.

Take this cue to yank that wondering boy of yours home where he belongs. I don't know what kind of work he does, or what it pays—but it's not worth it.

Dateless At 20

Dear Ann: I'm almost 20 and have held down a good job for more than two years—since high school graduation—and I've never had a date.

My father won't let me go out with a boy or even talk to one on the phone. When a fellow phones, my father slams the receiver down on him.

All through high school I had to stay away from school parties because my father was sure I would get into trouble. I've never given him any reason to think I'm a bad girl. He just has this idea in his head and I can't change it.

Please tell me what to do. I feel like a prisoner in jail. My mother is scared to death of Dad, so she can't help me. Can you?—INGRID.

Dear Ingrid: Your dad sounds like a sick man. Check with the public library and learn what the legal age is in your state. When you're of age, move into a private home with a respectable family and lead a normal life.

A few more years under this tyrant's iron rule and you'll be as sick as he is.

Life Begins At 60

Dear Ann: My husband retired last year at the age of 60 and he has worked harder at his "hobbies" than he ever worked at his job.

Six months ago he bought a violin and he's driving me out of my mind. I don't even care for GOOD violin music, so you can imagine what I go through listening to him practice. He takes two lessons a week and puts in at least three hours a day playing scales.

When our children were young they all took music lessons but it never bothered me the way this does. I would appreciate any suggestion.—EDITH R.

-:-

Dear Edith: Don't complain because your 60-year-old husband is fiddling around. At least he has a violin.

Ask him to set up a practice schedule so you can do your grocery shopping, visiting or bridge playing during the agony sessions.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove rust stains from porcelain or enameled sinks?

A. One way is to cover the stains with kerosene for about four hours, then wash off with piping hot water and strong soap. Another way is to rub the stains with a piece of raw lemon, followed by soap and water.

Q. What can I do when cream seems to be too thick to whip properly?

A. Place the dish of cream in another dish containing cold water. When it is chilled, place it in a dish of hot water for a few minutes. It will then whip very readily.

Q. How can I make a good duster to use for plush and mohair furniture?

A. A chamois wrung out of cold water is excellent.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is out of town on a job that keeps him away from home several months at a time. He is batching with a fellow worker I've never met.

When I wrote and asked if this man was married my husband replied that he didn't poke his nose into other people's business. He also made it plain the guy didn't ask him any questions either.

This got me to thinking. Since when is a man's family too personal a matter to bring up when you share an apartment together? I can't imagine a man who has a wife and four beautiful kids not mentioning them to his roommate —unless, of course, the two "boys" are living it up pretty good and passing themselves off as bachelors to each other and everybody else.

Maybe I've been alone too much and I'm getting half cuckoo. If this is the case please tell me. What do you say? — HIDDEN WIFE.

-:-

Dear Hidden: I'd say you've been alone too much—but you're far from cuckoo.

There's something pretty flaky about a husband who would fail to mention his family to a man with whom he's been sharing living quarters for several months.

Take this cue to yank that wandering boy of yours home where he belongs. I don't know what kind of work he does, or what it pays—but it's not worth it.

Dateless At 20

Dear Ann: I'm almost 20 and have held down a good job for more than two years—since high school graduation—and I've never had a date.

My father won't let me go out with a boy or even talk to one on the phone. When a fellow phones, my father slams the receiver down on him.

All through high school I had to stay away from school parties because my father was sure I would get into trouble. I've never given him any reason to think I'm a bad girl. He just has this idea in his head and I can't change it.

Please tell me what to do. I feel like a prisoner in jail. My mother is scared to death of Dad, so she can't help me. Can you?—INGRID.

Dear Ingrid: Your dad sounds like a sick man. Check with the public library and learn what the legal age is in your state. When you're of age, move into a private home with a respectable family and lead a normal life.

A few more years under this tyrant's iron rule and you'll be as sick as he is.

Life Begins At 60

Dear Ann: My husband retired last year at the age of 60 and he has worked harder at his "hobbies" than he ever worked at his job.

Six months ago he bought a violin and he's driving me out of my mind. I don't even care for GOOD violin music, so you can imagine what I go through listening to him practice. He takes two lessons a week and puts in at least three hours a day playing scales.

When our children were young they all took music lessons but it never bothered me the way this does. I would appreciate any suggestion.—EDITH R.

-:-

Dear Edith: Don't complain because your 60-year-old husband is fiddling around. At least he has a violin.

Ask him to set up a practice schedule so you can do your grocery shopping, visiting or bridge playing during the agony sessions.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove rust stains from porcelain or enameled sinks?

A. One way is to cover the stains with kerosene for about four hours, then wash off with piping hot water and strong soap. Another way is to rub the stains with a piece of raw lemon, followed by soap and water.

Q. What can I do when cream seems to be too thick to whip properly?

A. Place the dish of cream in another dish containing cold water. When it is chilled, place it in a dish of hot water for a few minutes. It will then whip very readily.

Q. How can I make a good duster to use for plush and mohair furniture?

A. A chamois wrung out of cold water is excellent.
